CANADA AVIATION MUSEUM

Ongoing until April 2008

Exhibitions

Art Flight 2007

The aviation art displayed in the 13th edition of the Museum's juried competition interprets the theme Abstractions of Flight, from the truly abstract works of pioneers in aviation invention, to the flights of fancy imagined by the dreamers of yesterday and today.

Storage Wing Guided Tours

Take advantage of scheduled guided tours to see inside the Museum's impressive storage facility, containing many of Canada's aviation icons (Wednesday to Sunday). ($)

Mark your Calendar

For Girls Only

The Ninety-Nines (99s) Eastern Ontario Chapter, an international association of women pilots, along with the Museum plan to spark interest in aviation in girls ages 9 to 14. Participants take part in fun, educational activities to learn basic aviation concepts, and take a short flight in a small aircraft with a local Ninety-Nine pilot! Registration: 613-993-8109

Centraires Concert Series

Join this local concert band as they present the first in a four-concert series. Today's musical program is a "Salute to the Forces."

Remembrance Day Observance

The Museum extends a special invitation to all veterans and members of the Canadian Forces, and their immediate families, to visit Canada's premiere aeronautical collection with free admission. Air, army, and navy cadets in uniform are also included in this invitation.

Family Connections

Three special guests will share family members' stories of participation in the great conflicts of the past century. Also learn about Talbot Mercer Papineau and other Canadian heroes by viewing the CBC documentary entitled The Great War.

Holiday Programming—Made in Canada

In the spirit of the season, families are invited to discover Canada's aircraft building industry—from the JN-4 "Canuck" to modern Canadian concepts and designs. Guided tours, cockpit interpretation, craft workshops, and activities can be enjoyed by all ages.
