

Accessibility for persons suffering from life threatening allergies would be a huge benefit- a necessity. Everybody deserves the right to feel safe. Living life with a deadly food allergy is like living with a loaded gun in your pocket when using any type of public transportation, or being in public in general. You don't know what you're touching, and have to be so careful.

Thank you!

Kyla Brennan