

As a mom of a child with severe nut allergies, I would love if planes could be nut free. Our family can't fly on planes that serve nuts, and many do as inflight snacks. The risk on severe reaction in-flight from cross contamination or inadvertent contact is too high to take.