

Hello,

We need your help desperately. More conscious effort needs to be put on allergies and it's health risks to everyone on all modes of transportation. There should be training and acceptance among all staff and employees. We need to educate how a few extra steps of planning and global awareness can greatly affect people's lives.

Over the years the number of allergic reactions have only increased yet sensitivity to it has not. Together we can make a difference felt around the world.

Thank you,

Reza Singh
