

To whom it may concern with the Canadian Transportation Agency,

I am writing to express the importance of accommodations being mandatory to make travel safe for those who have food allergies. This is a very real concern for family members, and impacts how freely they can travel abroad to see loved ones.

Sincerely,

Trista Hill