CBC/RADIO-CANADA'S COMMITMENT TO TRANSPARENCY AND ACCOUNTABILITY

As the national public broadcaster, we take very seriously our obligation to be transparent and accountable to Canadians. To meet our responsibilities, we provide access on our corporate website to information about our activities and the way we manage our public resources.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

In this time of internet-driven change, innovation and flexibility are critical elements for any large organization. Following a series of difficult decisions over the past several years, it is inspiring to see the important progress taking root at CBC/Radio-Canada, all while the Corporation adapts to significant changes in the media industry.

As a Board, we are committed to ensuring CBC/Radio-Canada can fulfil its mandate to inform, enlighten and entertain Canadians amidst an era of unprecedented transformation. This is why we were proud to drive a digital-first strategy that is aligned with Canadians' evolving consumption habits.

Two years into our strategy, we are deepening our regional presence, creating high-quality content and seeing tangible results in our digital-first strategy. We have also received a strong vote of confidence from the federal Government in the form of a stable, predictable funding increase of an additional $75 million in 2016-2017 and $150 million for the following four years. It is the first increase of its kind in decades and one of which the Corporation must take full advantage. We need to continue focusing our efforts on ensuring the Corporation remains a leader in the digital shift happening across the broadcast industry.

The Board of Directors fully supports the path to 2020 set out for the public broadcaster and I look forward to working with them in the year ahead. We will continue to provide guidance and leadership as CBC/Radio-Canada evolves into an even more dynamic, digital, public space in which Canadians can gather, discuss, debate and enjoy world-class content.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank both Brian Mitchell, who resigned from the Board in April after eight years of tireless service, and Pierre Gingras who resigned in October, for their hard work and dedication.

I am confident that this annual report highlights the many positive changes that are taking place across the Corporation, and that more and more Canadians will join the conversation as we continue to strengthen our role as Canada's public broadcaster.

MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT AND CEO

In this “always on”, global, digital space, what Canadians need more than ever is a Canadian public space. A space that serves the public interest; that informs Canadians about their country; that encourages them to connect with each other; that elevates our stories and our values; that builds social cohesion. This is what public broadcasting is uniquely qualified to do.

Our plan towards 2020 is built around this concept. But to strengthen our connection with Canadians, we have had to change how we connect with them; and change faster than anyone expected. Our challenge as the public broadcaster – and our opportunity – continues to be meeting the many different needs of those we serve in this age of constant change. We have to be connected and relevant to the digital generation. And, at the same time, we have to ensure that we don't leave other Canadians behind.

So, where are we now? We have all been witnessing the public broadcaster's transformation and it's really incredible to see. Today, we are Canada's biggest online media destination for news and information. Every month in 2015-2016, almost 15 million Canadians used our digital sites. That number has increased by three million in the past year alone, and more than half of those people are reaching us through their smartphones. The Business Highlights section of this annual report discusses these and other developments in detail and in the context of Strategy 2020.

In March, we received a tremendous vote of confidence in our efforts from the federal government through an important reinvestment: an additional $75 million in 2016-2017 and $150 million for each of the following four years. This commitment allows us to accelerate our plans to transition the organization to where it needs to go - richer, modern content and the digital expertise and platform we need for the future. You can read more about how we will use this investment in the Our Strategic Plan section of this annual report.

Yes, there will continue to be challenges. A modern broadcasting business model needs to reflect modern business realities. The current one is still broken. The Government's consultation on the future of Canadian Content in a Digital World, announced in May, is a very important step in addressing this challenge. We look forward to providing whatever support we can.

We've learned a lot about transformation over the past several years, and we will continue to learn going forward. We'll lead by example in how to evolve, and constructively engage our audience in a fast-moving media environment. Looking ahead, both the Rio 2016 Olympic Games and Canada's 150th anniversary of Confederation in 2017 offer even more new and exciting opportunities to engage with our audiences.

I think the key point is this: transformation has no finish line. Our country is evolving and the public broadcaster will be evolving along with it. That is how we will ensure Canada has its own, true, public space. And, there is not a team better-placed to make that happen.

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

2016 TARGETS

Under our strategic plan, Strategy 2020, we aim at achieving sustainable financial health, including the ability to invest in the future.

NET RESULTS

Results on a Current Operating Basis were a gain of $0.7 million this year. This result is close to breakeven, consistent with management's objective to balance the Corporation's budget. Last year's Results on a Current Operating Basis were higher at $19.2 million, in large part because we sold a portion of our interest in SiriusXM Canada Holdings Inc. (SiriusXM) in July 2014.

Results on a Current Operating Basis ¹	694	19,224	(96.4)

Net results under IFRS were a loss of $64.0 million, greater than the loss of $47.4 million in 2014-2015. The decrease this year is due in large part to proceeds of $33.5 million recorded in 2014-2015 from selling a portion of our interest in SiriusXM in July 2014.

Results before non-operating items exclude, among other things, the gain on SiriusXM recorded last year. This measure better shows the improvement in our results achieved from lower operating expenses more than offsetting revenue decreases. We also reinvested in our content and produced special events such as the Toronto 2015 PanAm and ParapanAm Games this year.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

We are transforming the public broadcaster into a more modern, accessible media organization to better fulfill our role as Canada's public space. The following business highlights demonstrate the progress we made this year towards achieving our Strategy 2020 goals.

TOWARDS FINANCIAL SUSTAINABILITY

In March, the federal government announced an important reinvestment in the public broadcaster: an additional $75 million in 2016-2017 and $150 million for each of the following four years. Our plans for this reinvestment are all about content: creating new content and making it more accessible than ever across our platforms. This is fully aligned with our strategic plan and stable, multiyear funding will enable us to carefully map-out how to best use these additional funds in the years ahead.

CONTENT AND SERVICES

EMBRACING OUR DIGITAL SHIFT

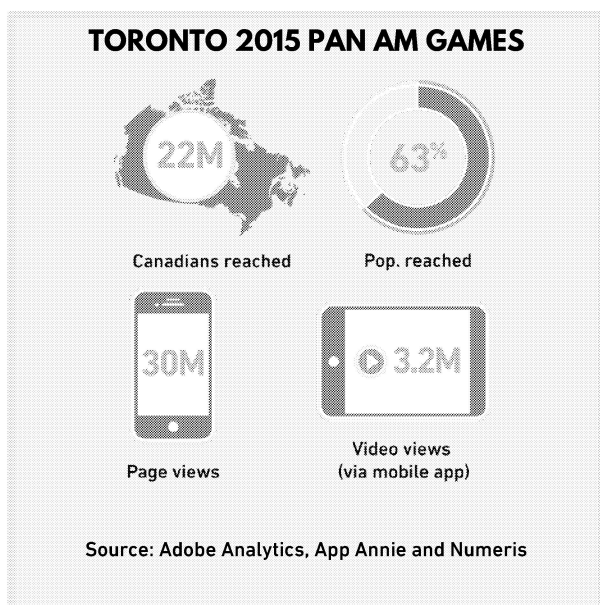

Embracing our digital shift means rethinking how we produce, format and distribute content. Digital is no longer seen as a separate entity; it is woven into all that we do as we work towards a truly multiplatform experience across our services. Over the past year, we advanced our digital offering, going beyond ensuring that traditional broadcasted content receives a second life on digital platforms. For example, shows like Keeping Canada Alive included six hour-long television episodes, but also more than 40 hours of online content, including extended breakout footage, original content, as well as an online 24-hour stream of raw footage. Moreover, shows like Le nouveau show and Série noire were first released digitally, and then on conventional and specialty television, experimenting with our multiplatform/multiscreen strategy.

Going beyond podcasting original radio content, Radio-Canada is increasing the availability of digital content with its newly launched digital service, Première PLUS. Audiences can now stream and binge-listen to a huge collection of high-quality audio selections from radio that is tailored to their own interests. We are also working to establish watch.cbc.ca as a best-in-class Over-the-Top (OTT) CBC video experience, one that over time will replace our current CBC Player as our go-to digital home for full-length programming. Radio-Canada is also increasing the amount of digital news available, with a priority on mobile and an updated Radio-Canada Information mobile app.

We were excited to apply our enhanced digital approach to our Pan American Games coverage in the summer. As we noted in our Q2 report, we reached more than 22 million Canadians. Digitally, our mobile app garnered 30 million page views and more than 3.2 million video views on the web.⁽²⁾

In 2015-2016, almost 15 million Canadians used CBC/Radio-Canada's digital sites every month- more than half of them through their mobile devices.

And that number has increased by 3 million in the past year alone.⁽¹⁾

EXPANDING OUR REGIONAL PRESENCE

As part of our regional strategy, we continue to create new opportunities to tell stories and engage our audiences with more coverage of the local issues that matter to them. In 2015-2016, we were able to reinvest in a more comprehensive local news offering by applying our digital-first strategy, and adjusting the length of TV supper-hour news to either 30 or 60 minutes. Specifically, this means more region-specific websites with content published throughout the day, adapted to all screen sizes and mobile devices; and more updates simultaneously broadcast on local morning radio shows and TV through visual radio, a new and innovative production method.

BUILDING PARTNERSHIPS

Building partnerships is another important way for us to strengthen our role as Canada's public space. A collaboration effort between Radio-Canada and Facebook to get exclusive access to its data during the federal election campaign and on election night, a first in French-language Canadian broadcasting, illustrates how Radio-Canada continues to be a leader in political coverage and analysis. In addition, English Services launched the CBC|Fullscreen Creator Network partnership with the goal of learning more about the dynamics of YouTube creator channels.

⁽²⁾Source: Adobe Omniture SiteCatalyst and Numeris

We continue to build our brand as Canada's Olympic Network and Official Broadcaster with an extension of our partnership agreement with the International Olympic Committee (IOC) to cover the Beijing 2022 Olympic Winter Games and the 2024 Olympic Games. The IOC decision is a vote of confidence after our exceptional coverage and digital offerings from the Sochi 2014 Olympic Winter Games – the most-watched Olympics in history, a success we hope to build on together with our broadcast partners from Bell Media and Rogers Media for the Rio 2016 Olympic Games.

In addition, following the CRTC's decisions from the Let's Talk TV consultations, we are in ongoing negotiations with licensed distributors of our programming content (cable and satellite) to produce a new contractual relationship that encompasses the regulatory changes.

More detailed programming information is available in the Content and Services section of this Annual Report.

SMARTER INFRASTRUCTURE

This year saw progress in our infrastructure strategy, as we review our requirements across the country to ensure we occupy the right amount of space and that we provide our employees with a modern, inspiring work environment and current technologies to produce even better content. In 2015-2016, our Sudbury and Moncton stations underwent this renewal process, with staff being moved into more modern facilities, closer to the communities they serve, while at the same time reducing our overall real estate footprint. We also announced we will be selling our existing Calgary location and moving into a new, right-sized leased facility that will allow us to fully modernize our operations in this location.

Meanwhile, we continue to explore options surrounding our two largest real estate holdings: the Toronto Broadcast Centre and Maison de Radio-Canada (MRC), with the ultimate goal of reducing our investment in infrastructure and redirecting important savings back into content, while at the same time meeting the needs of a modern public broadcaster. The Maison de Radio-Canada project took a major step forward in May 2016, when the Board of Directors shortlisted two proposals for a new facility, both of which would see MRC remain on a portion of the same site. Regarding the sale of the existing facility, the final phase of the process will continue with four proponents to maintain a high level of competition in the market and guarantee the best possible offer at the end of the process. The final choice of proposal, both for the new MRC and the sale of the existing facility, is expected in fall 2016 and will need to be approved by the Treasury Board.

Abroad, both networks extended our international capabilities with CBC opening a bureau in Moscow, while Radio-Canada relocated its Paris office within the headquarters of TV5MONDE, the largest French-language network in the world, granting us access to international Francophone audiences.

SUPPORTING OUR PEOPLE

Our employees are the public broadcaster's best and most important resource. From the continued training and development made available to all employees who are making the transition to digital, to progress in implementing recommendations that came out of the Rubin report, the Corporation is continuing our efforts to support our teams across the country and to make CBC/Radio-Canada a place where we can all be proud to work. NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This report contains forward-looking statements about strategy, objectives, and expected financial and operational results. Forward-looking statements are typically identified by words such as “may,” “should,” “could,” “would,” and “will,” as well as expressions such as “believe,” “expect,” “forecast,” “anticipate,” “intend,” “plan,” “estimate” and other similar expressions. Forward-looking statements are based on the following broad assumptions: CBC/Radio-Canada’s government funding remains consistent with amounts announced in the federal budget, and the broadcasting regulatory environment will not change significantly. Key risks and uncertainties are described in the Risk Management and Governance section of this report. However, some risks and uncertainties are by definition difficult to predict and are beyond our control. They include, but are not limited to, economic, financial, advertising market, technical and regulatory conditions. These and other factors may cause actual results to differ substantially from the expectations stated or implied in forward-looking statements.

NON-IFRS MEASURE

This report includes the measure Results on a Current Operating Basis, which does not have any standardized meaning according to IFRS. It is therefore unlikely to be comparable to similar measures presented by other companies. Refer to the Financial Sustainability section for further details.

ABOUT US

OUR MANDATE

We are Canada's national public broadcaster and we are guided by the Broadcasting Act.

The Broadcasting Act states that "the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, as the national public broadcaster, should provide radio and television services incorporating a wide range of programming that informs, enlightens and entertains.

CBC/Radio-Canada serves the public interest through its programming that should:

- Be predominantly and distinctively Canadian and reflect Canada and its regions to national and regional audiences, while serving the special needs of those regions;
- Actively contribute to the flow and exchange of cultural expression;
- Be in English and in French, reflecting the different needs and circumstances of each official language community, including the particular needs and circumstances of English and French linguistic minorities;
- Strive to be of equivalent quality in English and French;
- Contribute to a shared national consciousness and identity;
- Be made available throughout Canada by the most appropriate and efficient means and as resources become available for the purpose; and
- Reflect the multicultural and multiracial nature of Canada."

In addition to this domestic mandate, we are also required by section 46(2) of the Act to provide an international service, Radio Canada International (RCI). In keeping with that requirement, RCInet.ca is available in five languages: English, French, Spanish, Arabic and Mandarin.

Our vision is to be the recognized leader in expressing Canadian culture and to enrich the democratic life of all Canadians.

In establishing and operating our broadcasting activities, we are expected to comply with licensing and other regulatory requirements established by the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission (CRTC), as well as any requirements under the Radiocommunication Act that may apply to our use of the radiocommunication spectrum.

Rebecca Makonnen and Philippe Fehmiu of ICI Musique

OUR OPERATIONS

As of March 2016, we employed 6,419 permanent full-time equivalent employees (FTEs), 182 temporary FTEs and 612 contract FTEs.

Our head office is located in Ottawa, with main network operations in Toronto and Montreal. We originate local programming from 27 television stations, 88 radio stations and one digital station. We have two main television networks – one in English and one in French – five specialty television channels and four Canada-wide radio networks, two in each official language. We integrate content across multiple websites. Internationally, CBC/Radio-Canada has nine permanent foreign bureaus.

This map denotes the locations of our CRTC-licensed and affiliated radio and television stations across Canada, as well as our designated digital station. Note that digital services are also offered in the other stations, as a matter of course. The map does not include our additional newsgathering locations and international news bureaus.

OUR OPERATING ENVIRONMENT

A PUBLIC BROADCASTER WITH UNIQUE CHARACTERISTICS

CBC/Radio-Canada has a hybrid funding model and competes for audiences and decreasing advertising revenue in the Canadian media market, while also being accountable to the Broadcasting Act for additional language and content requirements. However, like all broadcasters, both in Canada and internationally, we are in the process of adjusting to the dramatic digital shift that is occurring in the consumption habits of audiences. The exception, of course, is that Canada is bilingual and we are therefore conducting this shift in both official languages.

Of CBC/Radio-Canada's total revenue in 2015-2016:

66% is government funding

16% is from advertising

9% is from subscriptions

9% is from other sources

CBC/Radio-Canada has two principal sources of revenue: parliamentary appropriations and self-generated revenues. Up until the end of this fiscal year, funding from government appropriations has decreased in real-dollar terms (adjusted for inflation) over the last 25 years. However, in March, the new federal government announced that the public broadcaster would receive an important reinvestment: an additional $75 million in 2016-2017 and $150 million for each of the following four years. This funding will be reflected in our financial statements starting in the 2016-2017 fiscal year.

MEDIA CONSUMPTION HABITS ARE CHANGING

The Internet, and the technology advances that are evolving with it, brings a profound change in media habits. Canadians spend an average of 20 hours a week on the Internet, with almost 70% of that time spent with audio or video content, rather than with text and still images.⁽³⁾ Content is increasingly being consumed via mobile devices, with 70% of Canadians owning a smartphone, and 51% owning a tablet.⁽³⁾ By comScore's estimates, online services receive more than 1.1 billion visits per month that originate from a mobile device in Canada.⁽⁴⁾ On top of this, the Internet has provided new ways for Canadians to interact with one another. The majority of Canadians (66%) are now social networking: 41% are doing it daily and 54% are doing it via a mobile device.⁽³⁾

The consumer habits mentioned above have created a profound shift in the advertising market that has negatively affected the outlook for traditional media companies like CBC/Radio-Canada. Internet has replaced Television as the largest advertising medium in Canada.⁽⁵⁾ This has a significant impact on the Corporation since we do not compete in close to 60% of internet advertising categories (i.e. search, classified), limiting revenue growth that might otherwise be expected.⁽⁶⁾

This fiscal year, the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission's (CRTC) decisions resulting from the Let's Talk TV hearings, including the introduction of small basic, pick-and-pay options and genre protection elimination, came into effect. Since March 1 2016, all distributors offer a "skinny" basic package at $25 per month, with additional options of pick and pay channels. While increasing choice for consumers, as of mid-April there has only been limited take-up of this option (approximately 100,000 Canadians, according to the CRTC).

It is expected that the subscription market will become more competitive, compounded by the fact that subscribers are increasingly moving towards Over the Top (OTT) online subscription services such as Netflix, Shomi and Crave TV. CBC/Radio-Canada's subscriber base is expected to be impacted as they become more competitive.

OUR EVOLVING REGULATORY ENVIRONMENT

Besides these important market challenges, our regulatory environment is also about to undergo significant change.

On September 14, 2015, the CRTC launched a review of the policy framework for local and community television programming. This review builds on the determinations made during the Let's Talk TV proceeding. The Commission is reviewing issues related to policy, regulation and funding of local programming. No new funding will be provided, but existing funding may be reallocated among broadcasting initiatives to help strengthen local programming. Given the importance of this proceeding for us, we filed written comments and appeared at the public hearing in January 2016.

During the fall of 2015, the Canada Media Fund (CMF) conducted cross-country public consultations about its future. CBC/Radio-Canada's recommendation was that CMF should continue its excellent work by continuing to focus on its core mandate - the financing of Canadian content. We strongly emphasized that CMF should not dilute its strong focus on content financing by investing in other unrelated areas such as technology or production infrastructure. In March 2016, CMF released their 2016-2017 program budget and guidelines, which continued CMF's Canadian content financing focus. At that time, CMF also indicated that they would continue to respond to the industry's changing needs moving forward. As always, given the importance of CMF financing to the Canadian programming which CBC/Radio-Canada brings to Canadians, we will closely monitor any contemplated changes to CMF's focus.

OUR STRATEGIC PLAN

At CBC/Radio-Canada, we have been transforming the way we engage with Canadians. In June 2014, we launched our strategic plan, Strategy 2020, a plan to make the public broadcaster more local, more digital and financially sustainable. We have come a long way since then and Canadians are seeing the difference. Many are engaging with us, and with each other, in ways they could not have imagined a few years ago. Our connection with the people we serve can be more personal, more relevant, more vibrant. Our commitment to Canadians is that by 2020, CBC/Radio-Canada will be Canada's public space where these conversations live.

When we began Strategy 2020, more than half of Canadians told us that CBC/Radio-Canada was very important to them personally. By 2020, we want three out of every four Canadians to feel that way. We also want to increase our digital reach to 18 million Canadians – one out of two – by 2020. We are well on the way, with three million new digital users in the past year across CBC/Radio-Canada platforms, and an average of almost 15 million digital users per month in 2015-2016.⁽⁷⁾

As we move ahead with the strategy, our goal is to make the public broadcaster more digital, more local and more ambitious in its Canadian programming, and in doing so increase our value to Canadians.

To guide our way, we have set out the following mission and vision statements, rooted in the Broadcasting Act that enshrines our mandate:

MISSION

CBC/Radio-Canada expresses Canadian culture and enriches the life of all Canadians, through a wide range of content that informs, enlightens and entertains.

VISION

In 2020, CBC/Radio Canada will be the public space at the heart of our conversations and experiences as Canadians.

Our mission and vision will be achieved through a focus on distinctive content and services that mirror Canadians' changing media consumption. We will do that by reducing infrastructure, transforming our people and culture and increasing our financial stability.

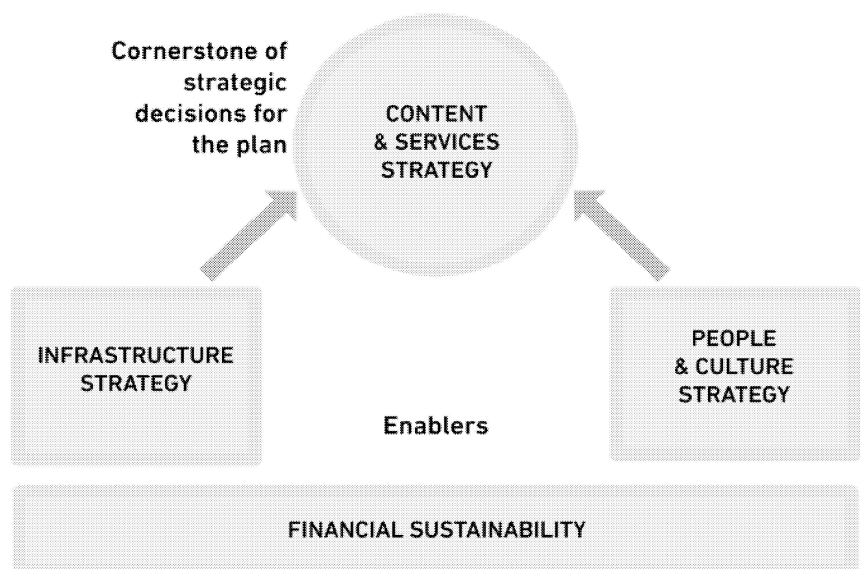

As previously noted in this report, almost two years after we first announced Strategy 2020, the Government of Canada announced an important reinvestment in the public broadcaster as part of its Budget 2016.

The additional $75 million in funding for 2016-2017, and $150 million for the following four years is a vote of confidence by government and by Canadians in our programs, our people, and our vision for the future. It is also recognition that CBC/Radio-Canada faces some significant financial challenges. The funding will provide an element of flexibility as we assess the progress of our digital strategy, and make necessary investments in the future.

In April, we announced details of how that funding would be used, specifically addressing how the $75 million earmarked for 2016-2017 will be applied in support of Strategy 2020. This includes one third of the funding to maintain our momentum for key, strategic programming and initiatives already planned this year; approximately half of the funding for the creation of new content across all of our platforms as we continue our transformation toward digital; and the remainder to support existing services. This includes areas that are central to our mandate, but in which cuts were deeply felt, including reviving plans to open a radio and digital station in London, Ontario; reducing radio repeats; and improving our international coverage with a new, pocket foreign bureau in Turkey.

MEASURING OUR PERFORMANCE

A central feature of Strategy 2020 is the establishment of metrics to track and assess our performance. Building on existing measurement tools, CBC/Radio-Canada has developed a streamlined performance measurement framework to assess our new strategic plan. The new performance measurement framework covers three areas: Mandate and Vision (public perception indicators), Strategy 2020 (strategic indicators) and Media Lines (operational indicators).

OUR MANDATE AND VISION

As Canada's national public broadcaster, the establishment of metrics to track and assess the perception of our performance is essential to demonstrate our accountability to Canadians. For Strategy 2015, we developed a report card that allowed us to monitor how well Canadians believe our services fulfill the Corporation's mandate under the 1991 Broadcasting Act, as well as to measure the performance of our programming with respect to quality, distinctiveness and our ability to reflect and draw Canadians together. The data will continue to be collected for Strategy 2020 via high-quality surveys conducted among representative samples of Anglophone and Francophone Canadians.⁽⁸⁾ The Mandate and Vision Report Card also includes new vision indicators, which present the Corporation's role in fulfilling the vision of Strategy 2020.

STRATEGY 2020

Strategy 2020 reporting is used to ensure that we are meeting the corporate-wide strategic objectives of our current strategic plan. We established long-term 2020 targets and will track our progress towards them with short-term annual targets starting with 2015-2016. A set of 10 key indicators were developed to measure the four elements of the new strategy: audience, infrastructure, people and financial sustainability.

For audience success, we selected five metrics:

- By 2020, we want three out of four Canadians to consider one or more of our services to be very personally important to them (metric 1);
- With respect to the diversity and objectivity of our information programming (metric 2), we set a goal to maintain Canadians' high perceptions even in the face of a fragmenting public opinion and the transformation of our news offering;
- In order to change Canadians' perceptions so significantly, we will need to launch new digital services and grow our digital reach and interactions with Canadians (metrics 3 and 4); and
- We will also need to maintain the level of time Canadians spend with our services, even as competition for Canadians' attention continues to increase (metric 5).

To support our audience goals, we will need to transform our infrastructure, including reducing our real estate footprint by 50% (metric 6). We will need our employees to be more engaged (metric 7) and to better reflect the diverse society we serve (metric 8). Lastly, we will need to meet our cost reduction (metric 9) and investment fund targets (metric 10) to be financially sustainable.

MEDIA LINES

We use Media Lines reporting to measure performance against our operational targets, which mostly focus on audience reach and share through our various platforms, the size of our subscriber base for specialty television channels, and self-generated revenue across all our services.

PERFORMANCE HIGHLIGHTS

MEASURING OUR MANDATE AND VISION

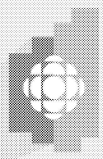

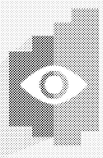

The latest survey results and highlights follow. These results are based on Canadians who gave CBC/Radio-Canada top marks, i.e., an 8, 9, or 10 on a 10-point scale. For those looking for more detailed results, we are moving reporting into the digital age. We have published the data online in an interactive dashboard for all Canadians to access here.

Here are some highlights of the survey:

- Most of the 2015-2016 metrics remained stable compared to the previous year's results;
- The top three perception scores in the latest survey show that CBC/Radio-Canada's programming is of high quality (68%), is informative (67%) and reflects the regions of Canada (66%);
- Canadians typically perceive us as a leader in making our programming available on new platforms, however the 2015-2016 result decreased seven points to 60% compared to last year; and
- The supporting the creation of original Canadian content and entertaining scores also dropped slightly, by four and three percentage points respectively.

⁽⁸⁾TNS Canadian Facts has been conducting the Mission Metrics tracking survey since 2010. Two methodological changes were made starting in fall 2015: 1. Sample sizes were reduced to lower the cost of the survey from 1,400 per wave per language to 1,000; and 2. Mobile-only homes were added to address changes in the Canadian population. Despite these methodological changes, results are comparable with previous years. Differences between the National fall 2015 results and prior years is +/- 2.0%.

MEASURING OUR STRATEGY 2020

The Strategy 2020 metrics are presented throughout this Annual Report, in the Content and Services, Infrastructure, People and Culture, and Financial Sustainability sections.

We met or exceeded our 2015-2016 targets on all but one metric. Our digital reach and interactions metrics performed well above their targets, and our remaining audience, infrastructure and financial metrics met their targets. Our employee diversity metric improved significantly compared to 2014-2015, yet did not meet its target, due to the lower attraction and hiring of external candidates than labour force availability.

CONTENT AND SERVICES

OUR SERVICES

As part of transforming our offering to Canadians in the digital age, our approach is to fully integrate digital across the range of CBC/Radio-Canada brands. These include:

In addition, we currently partner with SiriusXM Satellite Radio to offer six channels of CBC/Radio-Canada content.

YEAR IN REVIEW

FRENCH SERVICES HIGHLIGHTS

In 2015-2016, Radio-Canada pursued the transformation that began two years ago in order to remain a leader and a creative powerhouse in the Canadian French-language media industry. The public broadcaster continued to deliver compelling original content that reflects the lives and experiences of all French-speaking Canadians, with the overriding commitment to meet their changing media habits.

ACCELERATING OUR MULTIPLATFORM/MULTISCREEN STRATEGY

Part of this fundamental transformation involved accelerating the implementation of Radio-Canada's multiplatform/multiscreen strategy, with original Canadian content continuing to be a priority. We launched a dozen new TV drama series and arts/variety shows this year, including Esprit critique, Le Clan, and Le nouveau show. Furthermore, this visual content is now made more widely available on our many platforms (ICI Radio-Canada Télé, ICI ARTV, ICI EXPLORA, ICI Tou.tv), at the right time for our various target audiences. This year's experiment with non-standard broadcasting/distribution sequences produced positive results. For example, the exclusive pre-release of the full second season of Série noire on ICI Tou.tv EXTRA in November had a significant impact on subscriptions and generated nearly 300,000 views.⁽¹⁰⁾

Radio-Canada is experimenting with non-standard broadcasting and distribution sequences for its properties – a strategy that produced positive results this year.

Radio-Canada's multiplatform/multiscreen strategy also calls for a major digital shift, and we considerably expanded our original digital content offering in 2015-2016. Notable additions include five new original Quebec productions released in March 2016 on ICI Tou.tv (À ne pas faire à la maison, Barman, La vie n'est pas un magazine, L'écrivain public and Switch & Bitch); the new youth section introduced in June 2015; and the announcement of Véronique Cloutier's channel, Véro.tv, for EXTRA subscribers starting in 2017. There was big news in Radio as ICI Radio-Canada Première launched Première PLUS in February 2016, the first 100%-free French-language on-demand radio streaming service, whose offering includes a number of original series (e.g. Brassard d'un soir, La route des 20 – Sur les traces d'une génération, Parce qu'on est en 2016). ICI Musique, for its part, organized music events that leveraged digital platforms and audience interaction, such as Le concert dont vous êtes le héros and Héros du piano.

PURSUING OUR NEWS AND CURRENT AFFAIRS TRANSFORMATION

At a time when Canadians have access to an increasing number of news choices, Radio-Canada intends to remain the source of record.

To support its continuous news coverage, News and Current Affairs stepped up its production of digital formats targeting mobile platforms, and also released an updated Radio-Canada news app in late February 2016. There has been a strong response to the digital news offering. During the 2015 federal election, ICI Radio-Canada.ca received nearly 1.5 million visits – over twice the number recorded on election day 2011. Moreover, following the Paris attacks on November 13, 2015, a video uploaded by correspondent Jean-François Bélanger was viewed over 4.5 million times on the Téléjournal Facebook page.⁽¹⁰⁾

In the face of increasing choice in news, Radio-Canada intends to remain a reference, not only in terms of speed and accuracy, but also as the space for probing analysis that contributes to public debate and our country's democratic life. As an example, Radio-Canada continued in 2015-2016 to develop multiplatform signature news events around issues of global importance, as witnessed in the special reports on the Paris Climate Change Conference and sugar as an emerging public health issue. The reach and impact of Radio-Canada's News and Current Affairs coverage were also revealed once again through Enquête's hard-hitting investigative report into alleged abuses by Sûreté du Québec officers of Aboriginal women and the documentary Omar Khadr: Out of the Shadows, co-produced with CBC. And, in March 2016, Radio Canada International (RCI) released a mobile app for the Eye on the Arctic website to promote circumpolar discussions in Canada and abroad.

GROWING DEEPER ROOTS IN REGIONS

Radio-Canada's teams accelerated the multiplatform strategy and digital shift in the regions in 2015-2016. For instance, we rolled out new regional websites across the country with geolocated French-language content adapted to all screen sizes and mobile devices. News coverage on the web and through social networks was also expanded, and audiences responded very favourably. The ICI Radio-Canada.ca Regions section saw its visits (websites and mobile + apps) jump 37% between February 2015 and February 2016. Facebook accounted for 36% of visits in February 2016, up 13 percentage points over February 2015.⁽¹⁰⁾ Also noteworthy is the regional multiplatform project Bienvenue chez les #NUMÉRICAINS, which relates how digital technology is changing the lives of French-speaking Canadians. It features a website, a series of 10 one-hour audio episodes, 31 audio and video testimonials, as well as over 50 personal stories submitted by social media users.

The teams' motto, "More Local, More Often, on More Screens," drove local digital initiatives this year.

BRINGING FRENCH-SPEAKING CANADIANS TOGETHER

Radio-Canada remained a relevant, unifying force for all French-speaking Canadians.

In line with its mandate as Canada's national public broadcaster, Radio-Canada remained a relevant, unifying force for all French-speaking Canadians. It continued once again this year to achieve success with its new prime-time shows on ICI Radio-Canada Télé, drawing average audiences of 1.6 million for Les pays d'en haut, close to 1 million for Ruptures and 0.9 million for Les dieux de la danse.⁽¹¹⁾ ICI Radio-Canada Télé's Bye bye 2015 broke all previous audience records with an average of almost 4 million viewers on New Year's Eve – an 88% audience share⁽¹¹⁾ – demonstrating once again how television has the power to bring Canadians together during special occasions. Also, as part of the 2016 Semaine des correspondants from January 4 to 8, foreign correspondents took Radio-Canada's various platforms by storm to look back at the year's top international stories, give their predictions for 2016, and answer questions from the audience.

FRENCH SERVICES 2015-2016 RESULTS

The majority of Radio-Canada's key performance indicators for radio, TV and digital met or exceeded the targets set for 2015-2016. As for financial indicators, self-generated revenue and ICI RDI's subscriber levels fell short of expectations.

Radio – Includes the combined share of our two main radio networks - ICI Radio-Canada Première and ICI Musique - and the share for ICI Radio-Canada Première's regional morning shows. The 21.8% fall 2015 combined share broke the prior year record of 21.7%

ICI Radio-Canada Télé – Highly competitive market, where our continued support of the conventional prime-time television schedule appears to be paying off. New successful shows (Les pays d'en haut, Ruptures, Les dieux de la danse), in addition to strong multigenre line-up and high-profile returning programs (Unité 9, Mémoires vives, Tout le monde en parle). These audience successes are all the more critical since as we leverage our multiplatform/multiscreen strategy, we face the challenge of not sacrificing successes traditionally measured through TV audience share.

ICI RDI, ICI ARTV, ICI EXPLORA – ICI RDI recorded high ratings, boosted by its continuous coverage of major news events (e.g., federal election, Paris attacks). ICI EXPLORA's audience share increased during free preview periods throughout the year.

Téléjournal 18h – After a slow start during the fall 2015, the average minute audience (AMA) rose during the winter, a period that has seen higher viewer ratings historically.

Digital – Canadians turned in large numbers to our regional, national and international digital content to make sense of key events and major breaking news stories (e.g. federal election, Paris and Brussels attacks, deaths of René Angélil and Jean Lapierre).

Subscribers to Specialty Television Channels – Performance subject to favourable factors (programming, promotional efforts) and structural challenges (consumption trends, regulatory environment).

Revenue – Impact of persistent softening of TV advertising market (3% decrease year-over-year in the Francophone market)⁽¹⁸⁾ especially for conventional television.

⁽¹⁵⁾ In November 2014, one of our partners informed us of an error in the subscriber count for ICI RDI. The error had affected 2014-2015 annual results and was identified after we had set the annual target for 2015-2016. ICI RDI's annual subscriber target for 2016-2017 is established in light of the now-known actual values.

⁽¹⁶⁾ Target not finalized because of on-going negotiations with Broadcast Distribution Undertaking partners.

⁽¹⁷⁾ Includes advertising revenue, subscription revenue and other revenue (e.g. content distribution). Revenue for ARTV is reported at 100%, even in 2014-2015 although Radio-Canada owned only a 85% share prior to March 31, 2015. Since that date, Radio-Canada has been the sole owner of ARTV.

ENGLISH SERVICES HIGHLIGHTS

English Services' programming in 2015-2016 supported our overall goal of intensifying our relationship with Canadians through the delivery of relevant, high-quality, impactful and distinctly Canadian programming that informs, enlightens and entertains.

This goal has been pursued both at the national level (in creating nation-building experiences) and at the local level (creating community connections) by being creatively ambitious and building on diversity and inclusion.

UNIQUE AND DISTINCTIVE CANADIAN PROGRAMMING

On CBC Television, our new scripted programs Schitt's Creek, This Life and The Romeo Section received wide critical acclaim for their high quality and distinctive character. We also strengthened our commitment to the creative community with three new Arts programs (Crash Gallery, Interrupt This Program, and Exhibitionists), which exemplify the risk-taking and creative experimentation we strive for. Meanwhile, strong performers like Rick Mercer Report, This Hour Has 22 Minutes, Murdoch Mysteries and Heartland continued to entertain our audiences.

Our distinctive and high-quality programming received wide critical acclaim.

This year we began to shift our factual entertainment programming. We moved away from contest-style programs to those that reflect authentic Canadian experiences, such as Hello Goodbye and Keeping Canada Alive. We introduced Firsthand, a modern point-of-view (POV) documentary strand that leveres our vibrant independent Canadian documentary community. CBC also celebrated the Nature of Things host David Suzuki's 80th birthday with a special episode.

Radio One enhanced its diversity through new programs, including Unreserved, Podcast Playlist, the Doc Project and Because News. The flagship arts and culture program "Q" was also re-launched during the year. Many of our shows hit the road for live remote broadcasts including Cross Country Checkup in Iqaluit, Writers & Company at Toronto's Harbourfront Centre, The Current live from Paris, The Current in Newfoundland, The 180 in three Alberta towns, Unreserved from Six Nations and the Sunday Edition in Dublin, Ireland. Music highlights included The Quietest Concert Ever in partnership with Parks Canada, The Polaris Prize partnership, the Searchlight contest and Canada's Greatest Music Class.

2015-2016 was a big year for News with key events such as the federal election and the attacks in Paris and Brussels. In addition to providing Canadians with coverage and understanding of these events, CBC News also provided innovative, original investigative journalism on special issues/presentations such as Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women, Death and Denial in Cape Dorset, Face to Face with the Prime Minister and Minority Report.

Finally, among our Signature Events, CBC provided multiplatform coverage of the Toronto 2015 Pan American and Parapan American Games, celebrating the competition and performance of the athletes on Canadian soil.

DIGITAL AND MULTIPLATFORM

The federal election resulted in the single biggest day ever for digital news with over 27 million page views from 6.7 million unique visitors.

Increasingly, Canadians want to consume their content on a diverse number of platforms beyond traditional broadcast media. A critical 2015-2016 priority for CBC was to continue to offer our audiences a complete "programming ecosystem," in which our content can be enhanced by distribution on multiple platforms.

In entertainment, we launched the CBC arts feed, which is a dedicated digital arts site that aggregates arts content curated from across the CBC. We created an original digital documentary strand for emerging filmmakers, with specific emphasis on Indigenous Canadians. Other original digital content in the year included the return of Next Gen Den (an extension of Dragons' Den) and Punchline digital series such as Riftworld: Chronicles, The Nations and Newborn Moms.

In audio, we introduced new original podcasts such as Campus, Back Story, Podcast Playlist and Someone Knows Something.

Our news site introduced a responsive website that adapts to different devices, allowing for a better overall user experience. All broadcast news content was also available in digital form, including coverage of the federal election.

LOCAL NEWS

Further supporting our mobile-first strategy, in October we launched enhanced digital and mobile local news services with content geared to each part of the day, including targeted push alerts. Canadians are now receiving more local information more often, at more times during the day. Communities are informed with more multiscreen digital content on the devices and social networks that Canadians use to stay connected.

Canadians are now receiving more local information more often, at more times during the day.

At the same time, we launched "Visual Radio," in which morning radio shows are broadcast live on television on weekday mornings. This provides more local news, information and perspectives from our local radio programs to our television viewers. We re-formatted our local supper time television newscasts to suit the individual circumstances of their communities. Finally, we added several local news updates on CBC Television at one-minute-before-the-hour, in the late afternoon and immediately before The National.

Radio – A fall record high for the combined share of our broadcast radio networks was achieved. CBC Radio One's usage also increased at a time where the overall Anglophone market consumption declined. CBC Radio 2 achieved its second highest fall share since the programming changes introduced late in the last decade.

CBC Television – Results reflect the weaker performance of some of our shows, particularly new shows and more pronounced in the fall season. Moreover, many viewers were attracted away from conventional TV in the early part of the regular season to the playoff run of Major League Baseball's Toronto Blue Jays.

CBC News Network (CBCNN) – Share increased with the favourable audience impact of unique, non-recurring events such as the extended federal election campaign (late summer to October 2015) and the Paris attacks (November 2015).

Regional: CBC Radio One morning shows – A higher audience share was achieved over the prior year while increasing overall usage, despite the overall decline in English-language radio consumption. TV supper news – Lower audiences were experienced in the fall when the new supper news show format was introduced, with audiences growing through the winter. Regional web content – Favourable results were driven by coverage of events such as provincial elections (e.g. Alberta, Newfoundland & Labrador), a high profile murder trial in Hamilton and the earthquake in British Columbia.

Digital – Favourable results were driven by recent usability and presentation enhancements to the platform, as well as events of major international, national and local interest.

Subscribers to Specialty Television Channels – A decline in subscriber levels was experienced within the year. Subscriptions will be further challenged by the continuing cord-cutting trend and the effects of recent regulatory changes in the industry associated with the Let's Talk TV initiative.

Revenue – Results exceeded target and compared favourably to the Anglophone market's 4% decrease during the same period, partially driven by one-time events such as CBC's coverage of and host broadcaster activities for the Toronto 2015 Pan Am and Parapan Am Games.

CANADIAN CONTENT

Regulatory requirements for Canadian content on television are specified by the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission (CRTC), which sets conditions of license for ICI Radio-Canada Télé and CBC Television. For the whole broadcast day, a minimum of 75% Canadian content is required. For prime time, a minimum of 80% Canadian content is required. Both measures are averages over the entire broadcast year from September 1 to August 31. As shown in the table below, in the previous two broadcast years, ICI Radio-Canada Télé and CBC Television exceeded the CRTC's Canadian content conditions of license, both over the whole day and in prime time.

OUTLOOK

Rapid changes in technology and consumer habits are challenging the entire Canadian broadcasting industry, and CBC/Radio-Canada has felt the impact with pressures mounting in both the English-language and French-language markets. These pressures are not showing any sign of receding and they are deeply changing the media industry: the dominance of national and foreign players; the rise of content and production costs; the multiplication of sophisticated distribution channels and strategies; the changes in the regulatory framework (e.g. CRTC's Let's Talk TV) and in the media consumption habits; as well as the persistent decline in the conventional television advertising market.

As we are ramping up into Strategy 2020, CBC/Radio-Canada is making forward-looking choices. The Government of Canada's additional funding will provide the public broadcaster with the means to better face current and future challenges and pursue its own transformation to a new media environment.

This reinvestment in CBC/Radio-Canada is all about creating more content that Canadian wants and ensuring it is easy to find, on platforms that are reliable, robust and intuitive.

In late April, the Minister of Canadian Heritage launched public consultations on "strengthening Canadian content creation, discovery and export in a digital world". The first phase, completed in May, invited Canadians to share their views in an online pre-consultation questionnaire. The next phase will include the appointment of an Expert Advisory Group and the publication of a framework to guide the consultations through the summer and fall. This is an important initiative. CBC/Radio-Canada is looking forward to hearing what Canadians think about culture, and sharing its views what role public broadcasting plays in ensuring Canada's public space in the digital world.

Our priorities in 2016-2017 include:

- * Digital and Multiplatform/Multiscreen – We'll create more content for all of our platforms, including innovative stories and content for digital users. CBC will continue to develop its online player to make its programs more accessible. Radio-Canada will create new digital youth programming and more original webseries for ICI Tou.tv, as a way to reach new audiences, experiment with alternative formats and celebrate up-and-coming local talents.
- * Signature Events – CBC and Radio-Canada will continue to collaborate to build multiplatform signature events that bring Canadians together, such as the 150th anniversary of Canada and the Rio 2016 Olympic Games.
- * Canadian Drama – We'll invest in high profile Canadian programming. CBC/Radio-Canada will support new entertainment programming, including drama, and programming in celebration of Canada's 150th anniversary. In addition, CBC will launch a Canadian feature film initiative.
- * News and Regions – To further the reach of its impact journalism across the country, Radio-Canada will accelerate the production of digital formats, targeting mobility in particular, also making more time for public affairs content on ICI RDI. Similarly, CBC will deliver more projects on a multiplatform and multi-program basis, including in the fields of investigative and data journalism. CBC will also continue recent local service enhancements under the digital first strategy and expand to open a digital station in London, Ontario. To continue evolving their already distinctive international coverage, CBC and Radio-Canada will both support initiatives and invest in resources with the objective to shape a nimble yet powerful news organization.
- * Radio and Audio – CBC and Radio-Canada will increase the number of original programming hours offered on their radio schedules. We'll also build on the success of Radio-Canada's Première PLUS with a mobile app and more digital original content. ICI Musique and CBC Music will enhance their digital and on-air music services to our audiences, with CBC Music in particular re-investing in live music recordings, focusing on contemporary Canadian artists.
- * Engaging with Digital Audiences – In order to support the implementation of our multiplatform/multiscreen strategy, we'll invest in employee skills and reliable technology to garner greater understanding of our audience's needs through deeper analytics and also create the best user experience possible.
- * Archives Digitization – CBC/Radio-Canada has an incredibly rich archive of the stories and experiences of Canadians, mostly on film and tape. We'll digitize more of it so that Canadians can access it. One priority is our indigenous language archive.
- * Maintaining our momentum – We will ensure the sustainability of our current operations and programming initiatives already planned in 2016-2017 that are key to our strategy.

We remain committed to transparency and accountability, and will continue reporting on our performance.

INFRASTRUCTURE

OUR ASSETS

CBC/Radio-Canada has a base capital appropriation from the Government of Canada of $92.3 million per year. For 2015-2016, we increased this amount by transferring funds from our operating appropriation, for a total of $105.7 million to satisfy payments on bonds used to finance the Toronto Broadcast Centre. As required by subsection 54(4) of the Broadcasting Act, we present our capital budget to the Minister of Canadian Heritage in our Corporate Plan and then submit it to the Treasury Board for approval.

We currently use $2.4 billion of assets (with a net book value of $934 million) in our operations. We operate one of the world's largest broadcast transmission and distribution systems, with 529 transmission sites located throughout Canada. We are responsible for a real estate portfolio of 3.9 million square feet, including 18 buildings owned across Canada. We are also highly dependent on technology and technology-based assets in the production and delivery of our services.

- Technical equipment ($1,076M, 48%)
- Buildings ($555M, 25%)
- Land ($174M, 8%)
- Leasehold improvements and capital projects in progress ($104M, 5%)
- Intangibles ($186M, 8%)
- Other ($147M, 7%)

YEAR IN REVIEW

Following a competitive process, on May 7, 2015, CBC/Radio-Canada rejected the proposal submitted for the redevelopment project of the Maison de Radio-Canada as it did not meet the Corporation's requirements. We then decided to examine new scenarios, including selling our facility and moving into a new building on or off our existing site. To this end, we retained the services of a real estate brokerage firm to help us identify the full range of opportunities in the Montreal market. The first phase of the Request for Proposal process for the sale of CBC/Radio-Canada's Montreal site and facilities ended on March 18, 2016. Over a dozen proposals were received. On May 18, 2016, the Board of Directors shortlisted two proposals for a new facility, both of which would see the public broadcaster's Montreal home remain on a portion of the same site. Regarding the sale of the existing facility, the final phase of the process will continue with four proponents to maintain a high level of competition in the market and guarantee the best possible offer at the end of the process. The final choice of proposal, both for the new MRC and the sale of the existing facility, is expected in fall 2016 and will need to be approved by the Treasury Board.

During the year, we announced we would be leasing 195,000 square feet of the Toronto Broadcast Centre as part of a multi-year deal. Our prospective tenant informed us in March that it had been unable to secure the necessary approvals on its end, making it impossible to move the deal forward. While disappointed, we will continue to search for potential tenants to occupy this unused space.

On June 25, 2015, we completed the sale of our mobile division to Dome Productions. The decision to exit the television mobile production business and sell off our associated assets reflects the Corporation's strategy to reduce infrastructure.

STRATEGY 2020 PERFORMANCE METRICS

Indicator	Fiscal Year 2014-2015	Fiscal Year 2015-2016	Target 2015-2016	Target 2016-2017	Expected Shape of Growth	2020 Target
6. Reduce real estate footprint ⁽²⁸⁾	4.0 million rsf	3.9 million rsf	3.9 million rsf	3.88 %		2.0 million rsf

OUTLOOK

In January 2016, the Board of Directors approved the sale of our existing facility in Calgary and the move of our operations to a new leased location. The move into the new leased facility is expected in the first half of 2017.

We continue to look for opportunities to generate more revenue as we rent out vacant space in some of our buildings and to reduce our total cost of occupancy and real estate risk by selling and exiting some buildings that we own to become tenants in more cost-efficient premises.

PEOPLE AND CULTURE

OUR WORKFORCE

As of March 31, 2016, we employed a total of 7,213 full-time equivalent employees (FTEs), of whom 6,419 were permanent, 182 were temporary and 612 were contract. This is a decrease of 227 FTEs when compared to March 31, 2015, resulting mainly from workforce adjustments.

Under the Employment Equity Act, we are committed to providing equal employment opportunities to the four designated groups: women, Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities and members of visible minority groups.

Of CBC/Radio-Canada's permanent employees as of March 31, 2016:

47.8% are women
1.6% are Aboriginal
1.6% are persons with disabilities
9.3% are visible minorities

YEAR IN REVIEW

ORGANIZATIONAL REDESIGN

Organizational redesign is an important part of the broader transformation occurring within CBC/Radio-Canada. Following the executive level redesign announced in the summer of 2015, we have continued to challenge and change the Corporation's organizational structure to ensure we are positioned to work effectively together to meet our future strategic needs. One of the major outcomes of this process was the amalgamation of our technology and infrastructure groups from across the organization to form Media Technology and Infrastructure Services (MTIS). This component touches every element of work at the public broadcaster as they collaborate with their media partners to deliver great Canadian content. An anticipated result of this decision will be to bring a more effective, more coordinated approach to all areas of the Corporations' media technology and infrastructure. This is just one example of how we are changing the way we operate, reducing our costs and streamlining our decision-making processes.

STRENGTHENING A CULTURE OF RESPECT

CBC/Radio-Canada has devoted considerable energy towards implementing the recommendations that came out of Janice Rubin's report from April 16, 2015, with the goal of building a workplace we can all be proud of. Our action plan this year consisted of five key areas:

- * Training – 98% of all managers completed our mandatory online training on bullying, harassment and workplace violence. This was followed by a second mandatory module on bullying and harassment for every CBC/Radio-Canada employee, with target completion as of the end of June 2016.
- * Surveys and spot audits – As part of our new partnership with Gallup, we fielded a new employee engagement survey with additional questions relating to ethics and well-being. A 52% response rate ensured CBC/Radio-Canada has meaningful data to act on and to better-drive business performance. A second survey is planned for October 2016.
- * Reporting channels and support – We launched a new, external, confidential bullying and harassment employee helpline in 2015, ensuring psychological and emotional support and counselling, as well as information relating to our various policies and processes, is available to all employees. An anonymous ethics reporting hotline and case management system will also be operational by the summer of 2016.
- * Policy renewal – We updated our Policy on Learning & Development and Performance to ensure that conduct and behaviour are addressed in the context of performance management and development. In addition, we completed a review and revision of our conduct and ethics policies, and will be integrating the findings into the new policy framework.
- * Workplace investigation and data – We established a new, confidential methodology to track and report on complaints and investigations; we also ensured that all People and Culture employees received basic training on investigations.

We will continue to build on these successes and work with the unions to ensure that our culture is one where respect thrives and unacceptable behaviour is dealt with swiftly and appropriately when it occurs.

VALUES & ETHICS COMMISSIONER

A new Values and Ethics Commissioner position was created and announced in May. This person will provide a source of guidance and support to employees, and will act as the first point of contact for all questions and concerns regarding values and ethics from employees, and also from members of the public. It is expected that the position will be filled by or around the fall of 2016.

DIGITAL SKILLS TRAINING

As of June 2016, more than 1,200 people across the Corporation have been training to develop new digital skills, while over 650 employees participated in business skills training to help them support the transformation. Looking ahead, we will maintain our momentum to train people for this new digital world, train leaders to even better-support their teams, and continue building a strong foundation of business skills across the Corporation. We will also continue working to ensure employees have modern work environments, with the right tools and technology that help them do their best.

EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (EAP)

Our employees continue to receive support through the Employee Assistance Program (EAP), which offers a variety of services, including confidential counselling, critical incident workplace support and individual wellness initiatives in our locations across the country. Our year-end EAP utilization rate was 22.7 % (up from 18.8% the previous year), and 1,693 cases, including employees, retirees and family members (up from 1,598 in 2014-2015), demonstrating the continued relevance of the program.

INCLUSION AND DIVERSITY

CBC/Radio-Canada is continuously evolving to reflect the changing faces and voices of our country and to meet the needs of a diverse audience. We released our 2015-2018 Inclusion and Diversity Plan, which is aligned with Strategy 2020 to help us better reflect Canada's diversity in our workforce and programming, and to enhance opportunities for partnerships with more Canadians.

The Canadian Human Rights Commission conducted an audit on employment equity, which noted there is still work to do to ensure our workforce is more reflective of our audience; however, it acknowledged that our organization has become more diverse over time. In 2015-2016, we also introduced a new metric to track on a quarterly basis the diversity of external new hires in comparison with the Canadian labour force availability. It showed progress by the end of the year.

WORKFORCE ADJUSTMENTS

In June 2014, we announced our strategic plan and its reduction impact on the workforce of between 1,000 and 1,500 positions. While the implementation is not completed, through hard work, careful management and conversations with our unions, the maximum number of reductions is now forecast to be approximately 1,150 FTEs. To date about 40% of the FTEs eliminated have been through attrition.

In terms of hiring, we have already hired close to 150 people to help support our strategy, and we are planning on hiring at least another 300 in the next years to improve our digital skills.

LABOUR RELATIONS AND TALENT AGREEMENTS

In our second and third quarterly reports, we provided updates on the new French Services union structure. Moving forward, we are open to constructive dialog with the Association des réalisateurs (AR) and the Syndicat des communications de Radio-Canada (SCRC), and will work to promote discussions that help us reach new collective agreements that are good for not only our organization and employees, but for our audience as well. Pursuant to the provisions of the Canada Labour Code, the parties were given the right to exercise a strike or lockout as of May 15, 2016. The right being granted does not bind the parties into exercising it.

As part of our ongoing "living" agreement with the Canadian Media Guild, the Corporation and the union will convene in the summer of 2016 to address any areas of the agreement that require clarification or update.

Negotiations began in April 2016 with the Association of Professionals and Supervisors (APS), as their current agreement expires in June 2016, and are also ongoing with the Union des artistes (UDA) and ACTRA. An agreement was reached with the Canadian Federation of Musicians (CFM) to extend the current collective agreement for a short period.

In French Services, a joint committee between the Human Resources team and the SCRC was created to ensure discussions between the parties on subjects not related to labour relations but rather to the business environment; the committee has met twice to date and the tone has been cordial.

EXECUTIVE CHANGES

- In April 2015, Judith Purves joined CBC/Radio-Canada as Executive Vice-President and Chief Financial Officer;
- In May, Sylvie Gadoury became the Vice-President, Legal Services, General Counsel and Corporate Secretary;
- In June, Steven Guiton was named the Executive Vice-President of the corporation's newest media component, Media Technology and Infrastructure Services (MTIS), which also includes the Real Estate portfolio;
- Bill Chambers announced in July his departure effective at the end of August as Vice-President, Strategy & Public Affairs, and he was replaced in the interim by Marco Dubé, Regional Director of Radio-Canada Ottawa-Outaouais. Alex Johnston joined us in February 2016 as the Vice-President of Strategy and Public Affairs; and

In August 2015, Josée Girard joined as the Vice-President of People and Culture.

OUTLOOK

Looking ahead to 2016-2017, the Corporation will be recruiting for the newly created position of Values and Ethics commissioner. Additionally, we will be conducting a second employee survey, following up from our employee engagement survey conducted in 2015-2016 in partnership with Gallup. We anticipate this survey will be conducted in October 2016.

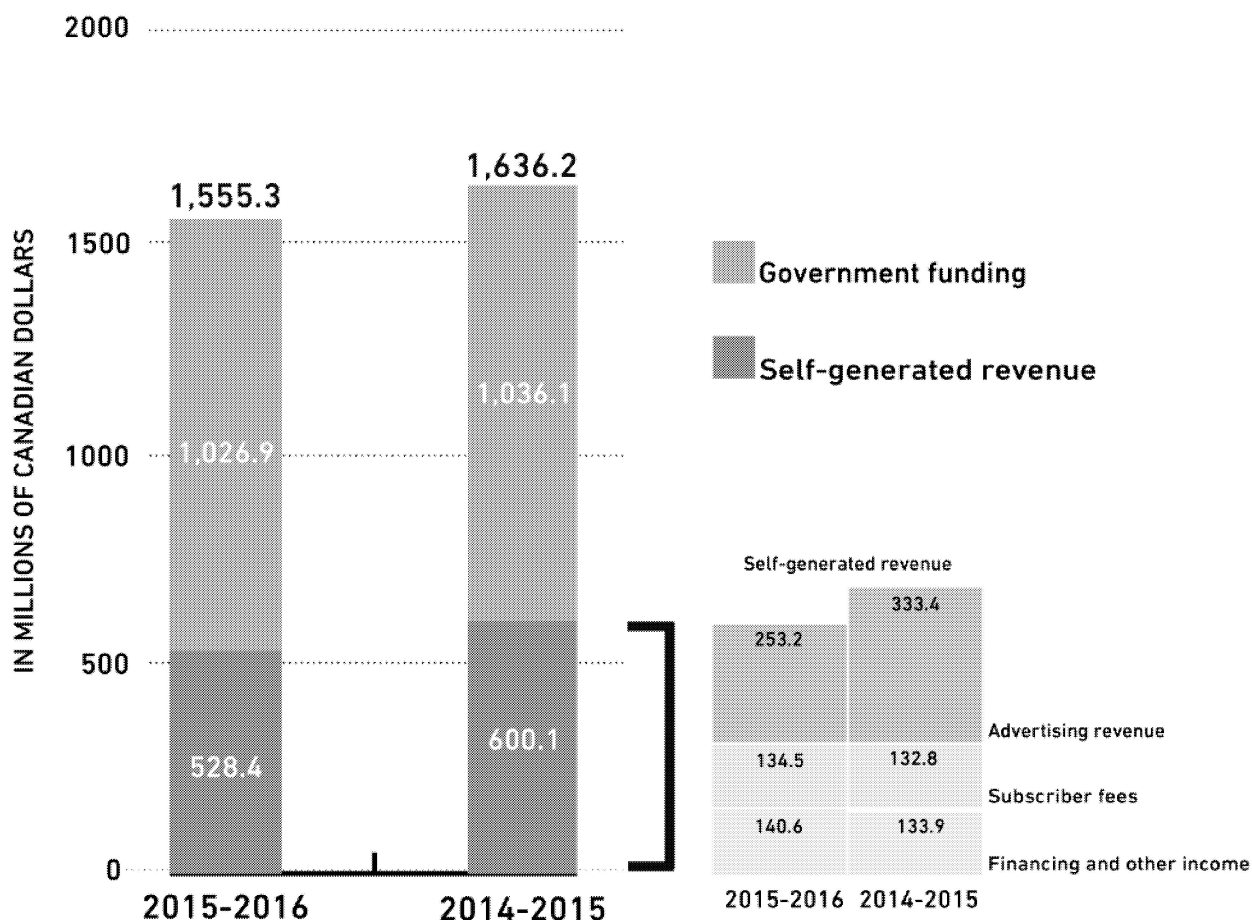

⁽²⁹⁾ Source: Gallup Consulting, Dialogue 2015 Survey. This is the per cent of employees who are proud to be associated with CBC/Radio-Canada. This is measured as the per cent who respond 4 to 5 on a scale of 1 to 5 in a representative survey of employees. The last employee survey was conducted in 2012, so the 2015-2016 and 2020 targets could not be set last March.

⁽³⁰⁾ This metric is made up of three groups: Aboriginal Peoples, persons with disabilities and visible minorities. It is calculated as a per cent of new external hires for positions 13 weeks or more.

FINANCIAL SUSTAINABILITY

REVENUE AND OTHER SOURCES OF FUNDS

We have four sources of direct funding: government appropriations for operating and capital expenditures, advertising revenue, subscriber fees, and financing and other income.

Government funding (66% of sources in 2015-2016): Government funding of $1,026.9 million was recognized during the year, including $94.6 million of amortization of deferred capital funding. A freeze of salary inflation funding for 2015-2016 was confirmed by the government in its November 2013 Economic Update. This meant that any salary increases for our employees were managed through cost reductions in other areas.

Advertising revenue (16% of sources in 2015-2016): Revenue from selling advertising on our conventional and specialty television channels, CBC Radio 2, ICI Musique, and other platforms. Advertising revenue is decreasing as a proportion of our total revenue and sources of funds as a result of the end of our broadcast rights contract with the NHL and the market shift away from conventional advertising platforms (the Canadian television advertising market decreased by 4% during the fiscal year).⁽³¹⁾

Subscriber fees (9% of sources in 2015-2016): Fees from our specialty services – CBC News Network, documentary, ICI EXPLORA, ICI ARTV, ICI RDI, the new ICI Tou.tv EXTRA premium package and Curio.ca.

Financing and other income (9% of sources in 2015-2016): Includes income from activities such as rental of real estate assets, leasing of space at our transmission sites, host broadcasting, contributions from the Canada Media Fund, and program sales.

FINANCIAL CONDITION, CASH FLOW AND LIQUIDITY

We rely on parliamentary appropriations and the cash generated from our commercial operations to fund our operating activities, including our capital needs in an environment highly dependent on technology. Specifically, our main sources of liquidity are parliamentary appropriations for operating, capital and working capital requirements, and self-generated revenue such as the sale of advertising on our various platforms. Our cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities for the year are summarized below.

Our cash balance at March 31, 2016, was $156.5 million, compared to $214.9 million on March 31, 2015. Last year's cash balance reflected several one-time receipts, including the proceeds from the sale of a portion of our equity interest in SiriusXM Canada Holdings Inc. (SiriusXM) and collections on advertising revenue following our broadcast of the Sochi 2014 Olympic Winter Games.

Cash - end of the year	156,465	214,884	(27.2)

N/M = not meaningful

CASH FROM (USED IN) OPERATING ACTIVITIES

Cash used in operating activities was $30.0 million this year, a decrease of $146.4 million compared to last year. Cash from (used in) operations is impacted each year by fluctuations in working capital, and 2015-2016 saw a $67.7 million increase in our short-term programming inventory, mostly as a result of prepayments for the Rio 2016 Olympic Games. We had also generated additional cash in operations in 2014-2015, the largest source being collections on advertising revenue following our broadcast of the Sochi 2014 Olympic Winter Games and the 2013-2014 NHL season playoffs.

CASH USED IN FINANCING ACTIVITIES

Cash outflows for financing activities were $57.3 million, lower than last year by $4.5 million, as a result of cash used in February 2015 to settle our remaining obligations under finance leases for mobile and office equipment and to purchase the related assets.

Other cash outflows for financing activities in both years presented above relate to:

- interest payments;
- repayments of the Toronto Broadcasting Centre bonds;
- payments of notes payable; and
- payments to meet obligations under our satellite transponder finance leases.

CASH FROM INVESTING ACTIVITIES

Investing activities generated cash of $28.8 million this year, compared to $98.2 million in 2014-2015. The higher cash inflows last year were mostly attributable to:

- The receipt of $33.5 million in net proceeds from the July 2014 sale of a portion of the shares we hold in SiriusXM; and
- Dividends received of $16.9 million from our remaining investment in SiriusXM (compared to $5.5 million in 2015-2016).

Acquisition of property and equipment was higher this year, as a result of the consolidation of our locations in both Halifax and Moncton, the relocation of our station in Sudbury, and HD upgrades to our production facilities in Ottawa and Quebec City.

BORROWING PLAN

The Broadcasting Act, section 46.1, confers on CBC/Radio-Canada the authority to borrow up to $220.0 million, or such greater amount as may be authorized by Parliament, subject to approval of the Minister of Finance. Section 54.(3.1) of the Act requires that our borrowing plan be included in our Corporate Plan. Borrowing to meet working capital purposes is prohibited.

When we sold long-term accounts receivable in 2009 as part of our Financial Recovery Plan, which addressed the impact of the global economic slowdown and declining television advertising revenue, we provided a guarantee to investors to obtain the best possible value for selling the receivables. This guarantee was deemed to be borrowing. The outstanding amounts against the borrowing authority are as follows:

(in thousands of Canadian dollars)

Total borrowing authority available:	220,000
Authority used as at March 31, 2016:
Guarantee on accounts receivable monetization	(129,725)
Remaining authority	90,275

Under the Broadcasting Act, section 47.(1), we are an agent of the Crown and therefore have the constitutional immunities, privileges and prerogatives that are enjoyed by the Crown. The Crown is also fully liable and financially exposed for all our actions and decisions while we are operating within our mandate. In other words, our assets and liabilities are the assets and liabilities of the Government of Canada.

YEAR IN REVIEW – OUR RESULTS

RESULTS UNDER IFRS AND ON A CURRENT OPERATING BASIS

The following analysis provides a more detailed discussion of our financial performance.

Other provisions for non-cash items	(24,930)	(2,671)	(833.4)
Results on a Current Operating Basis ¹	694	19,224	(96.4)

¹ Results on a Current Operating Basis is a non-IFRS measure. An explanation of Results on a Current Operating Basis is provided below.

NET RESULTS UNDER IFRS FOR THE YEAR

Net results under IFRS for the year were a loss of $64.0 million, greater than the loss of $47.4 million incurred in 2014-2015. The decrease this year is due in large part to the proceeds of $33.5 million included in 2014-2015 results following the sale of our interest in SiriusXM.

Our Results before non-operating items exclude, among other things, the gain on SiriusXM recorded last year. This measure illustrates the improvement in our results achieved this year relative to 2014-2015. Results before non-operating items increased by 25.3% ($21.8 million) due to:

- Lower operating expenses more than offsetting revenue decreases. While our production spending associated with the broadcast of events decreased this year, we have also been successful in reducing our ongoing operating expenses through cost-reduction initiatives. These savings are allowing us to reinvest in our content. In addition, we incurred some event costs this year as we covered the Toronto 2015 Pan Am and Parapan Am Games.
- Government funding levels remaining consistent with 2014-2015.

Included in Net results under IFRS for the period are items that do not currently generate or require funds from operations, as explained below.

RESULTS ON A CURRENT OPERATING BASIS

Results on a Current Operating Basis amounted to a gain of $0.7 million this year, a decrease of $18.5 million when compared to last year. This result is close to break even, consistent with management's objective to balance the Corporation's budget. Last year's Results on a Current Operating Basis of $19.2 million included proceeds from the sale of some of our equity interest in SiriusXM.

CBC/Radio-Canada defines Results on a Current Operating Basis as Net Results under IFRS less the adjustments for non-cash expenses that will not require operating funds within one year and non-cash revenues that will not generate operating funds within one year. This measure is used regularly by management to help monitor performance and balance the Corporation's budget consistent with parliamentary appropriations. We believe this measure provides useful complementary information to readers, while recognizing that it does not have a standard meaning under IFRS and will not likely be comparable to measures presented by other companies.

Adjustments include the elimination of non-cash pension and other employee future benefit costs, which represent the excess of the IFRS expense over the actual cash contribution for the year. Adjustments are also made for other non-cash items such as the depreciation, amortization and decommissioning of capital assets; the amortization of deferred capital funding; and non-budgetary annual leave. Other less significant items not funded or generating funds in the current period, primarily employee-benefit-related, are adjusted for in the reconciliation to Results on a Current Operating Basis.

TOTAL	528,386	600,135	(12.0)

Our self-generated revenue decreased by $71.7 million (12.0%) in 2016, as described below.

ADVERTISING (▼ 24.1%)

Our advertising revenue depends on the different events of significant importance we cover throughout the year, the overall health of the advertising market and the success of our programming schedule.

The $80.2 million decrease in advertising revenue this year resulted from:

EVENTS (▼ $73.4 million)

Advertising revenue from events was lower this year due to:

- The end of our contract with the NHL in June 2014 after Rogers acquired the broadcast rights. Last year's revenue included advertising from the 2013-2014 hockey season playoffs (broadcast April to June 2014); and
- The impact of the 2014 FIFA World Cup Brazil advertising which also increased last year's results.

These decreases were partially offset by additional advertising revenue this year from our coverage of the Toronto 2015 Pan Am and Parapan Am Games.

ONGOING ACTIVITIES (▼ $6.8 million)

This 2.7% decrease in advertising revenue from ongoing activities was due to:

- The persistent softness of the conventional and specialty Canadian TV advertising markets, which were down 4% this year; and
- Lower revenue following the end of the Steven and Chris show on CBC.

These decreases were partially offset by higher digital advertising revenue as we continue to enhance our digital presence, consistent with Strategy 2020.

SUBSCRIBER FEES (▲ 1.3%)

Our subscriber revenue is driven by the size of our subscriber base, which has remained relatively stable when compared to the prior year, despite the cord-cutting and cord-shaving trends adversely affecting the cable industry. For more details on our subscriber base by specialty channel, refer to the Content and Services section of this report.

Our subscriber revenue increased by $1.7 million (1.3%) relative to last year. The main changes by specialty channel are highlighted below:

- ICI EXPLORA's revenue was higher by one third following a new distribution deal negotiated with a cable company; and
- ICI Tou.tv EXTRA doubled its revenue this year, partly reflecting the success of its strategy of making some shows such as Série Noire (season 2) exclusively available to its subscribers before their TV launch.

These increases were partly offset by CBC News Network's revenue decreasing by 2.0% as its subscriber base continued to decline slightly.

FINANCING AND OTHER INCOME (▲ 5.0%)

Financing and other income depends on the different events of significant importance we cover throughout the year since it includes host broadcasting services and revenue from the sale of rights. It also reflects the revenue from our rental, production and digital activities amongst others. More information about our revenue streams is also provided in note 20 Revenue of our consolidated financial statements.

The 5.0% ($6.7 million) increase in financing and other income this year resulted from:

EVENTS (▲ $9.6 million)

Other income from events doubled this year to $24.5 million due to our host broadcasting activities of the Toronto 2015 Pan Am and Parapan Am Games.

This increase was partially offset by:

- The absence of income from the Local Programming Improvement Fund after the fund was discontinued in August 2014; and
- Lower digital rights and production revenue since last year's results included digital rights revenue from the 2014 FIFA World Cup Brazil and host broadcasting revenue for the FIFA U-20 Women's World Cup.

ONGOING ACTIVITIES (▼ $2.9 million)

This 2.4% decrease in financing and other income arising from ongoing activities was due to:

- Lower revenue from the rental of CBC's mobile production assets, which were sold in June 2015;
- A decrease in facilities rental income received from independent producers, consistent with Radio-Canada's strategy to reduce its number of internal productions; and
- Lower retransmission rights revenue recognized following the receipt of a retroactive payment last year.

	102,082	99,458	2.6
TOTAL	1,619,565	1,722,292	(6.0)

Our operating expenses decreased by 6.0% ($102.7 million) compared to last year, with the main variances noted below.

TELEVISION, RADIO AND DIGITAL SERVICES COSTS (▼ 6.5%)

Television, radio and digital services costs depend on the different events of significant importance we cover throughout the year and on our ongoing programming schedule. They represent the costs we incur in relation to the production of our programs, including the cost of our technical labour and facilities.

The 6.5% ($105.4 million) decrease in Television, radio and digital services costs resulted from the following:

EVENTS (▼ $69.8 million)

Expenditures from events decreased by $69.8 million this year as last year's expenses included rights and production costs for Hockey Night in Canada and the 2014 FIFA World Cup Brazil;

These decreases were partially offset by:

- Additional costs incurred this year for broadcasting the Toronto 2015 Pan Am and Parapan Am Games; and
- Costs incurred for the first full year under our new agreement with Rogers for the continued broadcast on Saturdays and during the playoffs of Hockey Night in Canada, which started in July 2014.

ONGOING ACTIVITIES (▼ $35.6 million)

Our operating costs also continued to decrease this year by $35.6 million, or 2.2%. This reflected:

- The continued effect of our cost-savings initiatives that provided approximately $60 million in annual savings;
- The fact that last year's results included $30 million of restructuring expenses in line with the announcements made in 2014 and 2015 as we balanced our budget and launched our then new strategic plan, Strategy 2020; and
- A downward revision of two legal provisions following new information obtained on these cases;

These decreases were partially offset by:

- Reinvestment of approximately $30 million in content across the Corporation, in line with Strategy 2020;
- Higher pension expense due to a change in actuarial assumptions; and
- Additional promotional expenses incurred for the launch of some of our new and recurring shows this year.

OTHER OPERATING EXPENSES (▲ 2.6%)

Other operating expenses include costs related to the broadcasting of the Corporation's programs ("transmission, distribution and collection" and "payments to private stations"), corporate management costs, finance costs and the recognition of our share in our associate results (SiriusXM).

Other operating expenses increased by 2.6%, with the main variances highlighted below:

- Our share of results in associate decreased by 47.1% mainly because last year's results included the receipt of a special dividend of $10.4 million from SiriusXM. Note we also sold some of our shares in SiriusXM last year; that is discussed below as a non-operating item.
- This was partially offset by:
 - The continued decrease in our finance costs consistent with our expectations;
 - Reduced transmission, distribution and collection expenses as we continue to see the effects of our cost-reduction initiatives; and
 - Lower payments to private stations mostly due to the end of one of our affiliate agreements with a private broadcaster.

GOVERNMENT FUNDING

	For the year ended March 31
	2016	2015	% change
(in thousands of Canadian dollars)
Parliamentary appropriations for operating expenditures	928,332	929,284	(0.1)
Parliamentary appropriations for working capital	4,000	4,000	-
Amortization of deferred capital funding	94,597	102,812	(8.0)
TOTAL	1,026,929	1,036,096	(0.9)

Parliamentary appropriations for operating expenditures remained at a comparable level in 2015-2016. This is consistent with our expectations after the final phase of Federal Budget 2012 was implemented last year.

Capital funding is recorded as deferred capital funding. It is amortized and recognized as revenue over the same periods as the related property and equipment, and intangible assets are used in CBC/Radio-Canada's operations. The decrease of $8.2 million (8.0%) largely reflects the lower value of our asset base as we simplify our infrastructure and reduce our real estate footprint, consistent with our strategy.

NON-OPERATING ITEMS

	For the year ended March 31
	2016	2015	% change
(in thousands of Canadian dollars)
Gain on sale of shares	-	33,548	(100.0)
Gain on disposal of property and equipment and intangibles	257	5,122	(95.0)
TOTAL	257	38,670	(99.3)

The small non-operating gain this year was largely due to asset retirements in the normal course of our business.

Gains of $38.7 million last year resulted from:

- A non-operating gain on sale of shares of $33.5 million from the sale of a portion of our equity interest in SiriusXM in 2014; and
- Gain on disposal of property and equipment and intangibles of $5.1 million, mostly reflecting insurance proceeds received in 2014 relating to mobile production assets destroyed in a fire.

TOTAL COMPREHENSIVE INCOME (LOSS)

	For the year ended March 31
	2016	2015	% change
(in thousands of Canadian dollars)
Net results for the year	(63,993)	(47,391)	(35.0)
Other comprehensive income (loss)
Remeasurements of defined benefit plans	32,745	187,457	N/M
Total comprehensive income (loss) for the year	(31,248)	140,066	N/M

N/M = not meaningful

Total comprehensive loss recognized this year was $31.2 million, compared to a gain of $140.1 million in the prior year. In addition to net results, total comprehensive income includes remeasurements of pension plan values. These remeasurements are driven by significant non-cash fluctuations in our pension plan's obligations and assets that occur when actual results or interest rates differ from our actuarial assumptions. We recognize these movements immediately in other comprehensive income each reporting period.

A gain of $32.7 million was recognized this year on remeasurements of defined benefit plans as a result of a decrease in our plan obligations due to a 25 basis-point increase in the discount rate used to value these long-term liabilities. This decrease was partly offset by a lower return on plan assets than estimated as part of our actuarial assumptions.

In 2014-2015, a gain of $187.5 million was recognized from remeasurements of our defined benefit plans. This gain was due to a higher return on our plan assets than the return used in our plan assumptions, partly offset by the impact of reducing the discount rate used to value the pension obligations by 75 basis-points.

SEASONALITY AND QUARTERLY FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The following table shows condensed financial data for the previous eight quarters. This quarterly information is unaudited, but has been prepared on the same basis as the annual consolidated financial statements. We discuss the factors that caused our results to vary over the past eight quarters within this management discussion and analysis.

	For the year ended March 31, 2015
	Q1	Q2	Q3	Q4
Revenue	192,592	138,129	142,971	126,443
Expenses	(469,521)	(362,923)	(416,216)	(473,632)
Results before Government funding and non-operating items	(276,929)	(224,794)	(273,245)	(347,189)
Government funding	247,755	128,177	265,305	394,859
Results before non-operating items	(29,174)	(96,617)	(7,940)	47,670
Non-operating items	(4,395)	43,410	1,988	(2,333)
Net results under IFRS for the period	(33,569)	(53,207)	(5,952)	45,337
Results on a Current Operating Basis	(7,421)	(55,536)	15,394	66,787

Our operating results are subject to seasonal fluctuations that materially impact quarter-to-quarter operating results.

Revenue generated during the second quarter of the year is usually at its lowest level because the summer season attracts fewer viewers. In contrast, revenue in the third quarter is comparably higher as audiences are larger and more advertisers purchase airtime in anticipation of the holiday season.

Expenses also tend to follow a seasonal pattern because they are influenced by the programming schedule. Operating costs tend to be higher in the fourth quarter as the Corporation incurs costs preparing for the fall broadcasting season and completes project deliverables due by the end of the fiscal year.

Historically, revenue and expenses in the first quarter of each financial year were typically higher due to our coverage of NHL playoffs. With the end of CBC's contract with the NHL in 2014-2015, the seasonality of our revenue is becoming more reflective of general market, economic and viewership patterns affecting all conventional broadcasters.

Government funding is recognized in the Corporation's income based on budgeted net expenses for the quarter. Monthly and quarterly budgets are established from the annual budget approved by the Board of Directors at the beginning of each year, and reflect expected appropriation funding for the year and seasonal impacts on expenditures and self-generated revenue.

Other factors may impact net results from quarter to quarter. These may include foreign exchange gains or losses, changes to the fair value of derivative financial instruments, asset write-offs and sales. When appropriate, these are recorded as non-operating items. As indicated in the table, the Corporation recorded lower levels of non-operating gains and losses in 2015-2016 compared to 2014-2015, mostly explained by the gain of $33.5 million from the sale of a portion of our investment in SiriusXM recorded in the second quarter of 2014-2015.

COMPARISON OF 2015-2016 AND 2014-2015 BY QUARTER

QUARTER	REVENUE	EXPENSES
Q1	The lower revenue compared to the same period in the prior year is mainly driven by the impact of the 2013-2014 NHL season playoffs (from April to June 2014) on 2014-2015 advertising.	Expenses are lower relative to the equivalent period in the previous year, which is mostly explained by the cost of the broadcast rights to the 2013-2014 NHL season playoffs. Restructuring costs had also been incurred in 2014-2015.
Q2	Incremental advertising revenue generated by our coverage of the Toronto 2015 Pan Am and Parapan Am Games in the year considered was lower than that generated by the FIFA 2014 World Cup Brazil last year. However, overall revenue was higher in 2015-2016 because of the host broadcasting revenue related to the Pan Am and Parapan Am Games.	Broadcast rights and production costs for the Toronto 2015 Pan Am and Parapan Am Games were higher than the similar costs related to FIFA 2014 World Cup Brazil incurred in the same period of last year.
Q3	Third quarter revenue in 2015-2016 was slightly lower compared to the same period in 2014-2015. The variance is mostly explained by the softness of the television advertising market.	Expenses in the third quarter of 2015-2016 were slightly higher than the same period in the previous year, and reflect a reinvestment in the fall television schedule, offset by savings from cost-reduction initiatives.
Q4	Revenue in the fourth quarter of 2015-2016 was generally consistent with the same period in the previous year.	Fourth quarter expenses in 2015-2016 were lower compared to the same period in 2014-2015, the result of cost-reduction initiatives.

OUTLOOK

On March 22, 2016, the Government of Canada announced an important reinvestment in Canada's public broadcaster; an additional $75 million in 2016-2017 and $150 million for the following four years. This reinvestment is a tremendous vote of confidence by government and by Canadians in our programs and services. This multiyear funding commitment will provide the stability to continue our digital transformation and invest in the programs and services important to Canadians.

Our revenue continues to be exposed to the industry-wide softening of advertising markets and the shift of advertising away from traditional television to digital platforms. We are closely monitoring the situation, as we expect the advertising market to remain challenged.

We are also continuing to monitor and assess the financial impacts of the decisions made by the CRTC's Let's Talk TV review on the TV broadcasting industry in Canada. Changes resulting from these regulatory decisions could affect our specialty channel revenue. Plans have been developed to mitigate negative changes to our specialty channel distribution and revenue, including negotiating the channel carriage of our specialty channels with our cable, satellite or microwave distribution partners.

These uncertainties threatened some of the content creation and some digital initiatives planned under Strategy 2020. As such, about 35% of the new funding will go to ensuring our momentum and the work underway in order to continue moving forward with the transformation of CBC/Radio-Canada into the digital public space, while we work with government and other stakeholders to reinvent our business model.

On May 13, 2016, SiriusXM Canada Holdings Inc. announced its intention to recapitalize the company by way of a go-private transaction. CBC/Radio-Canada intends on voting in favour of the proposed plan. The transaction would involve the sale of its 10.2% stake at $4.50 a share, generating proceeds of approximately $58 million. The programming partnership will continue through 2022.

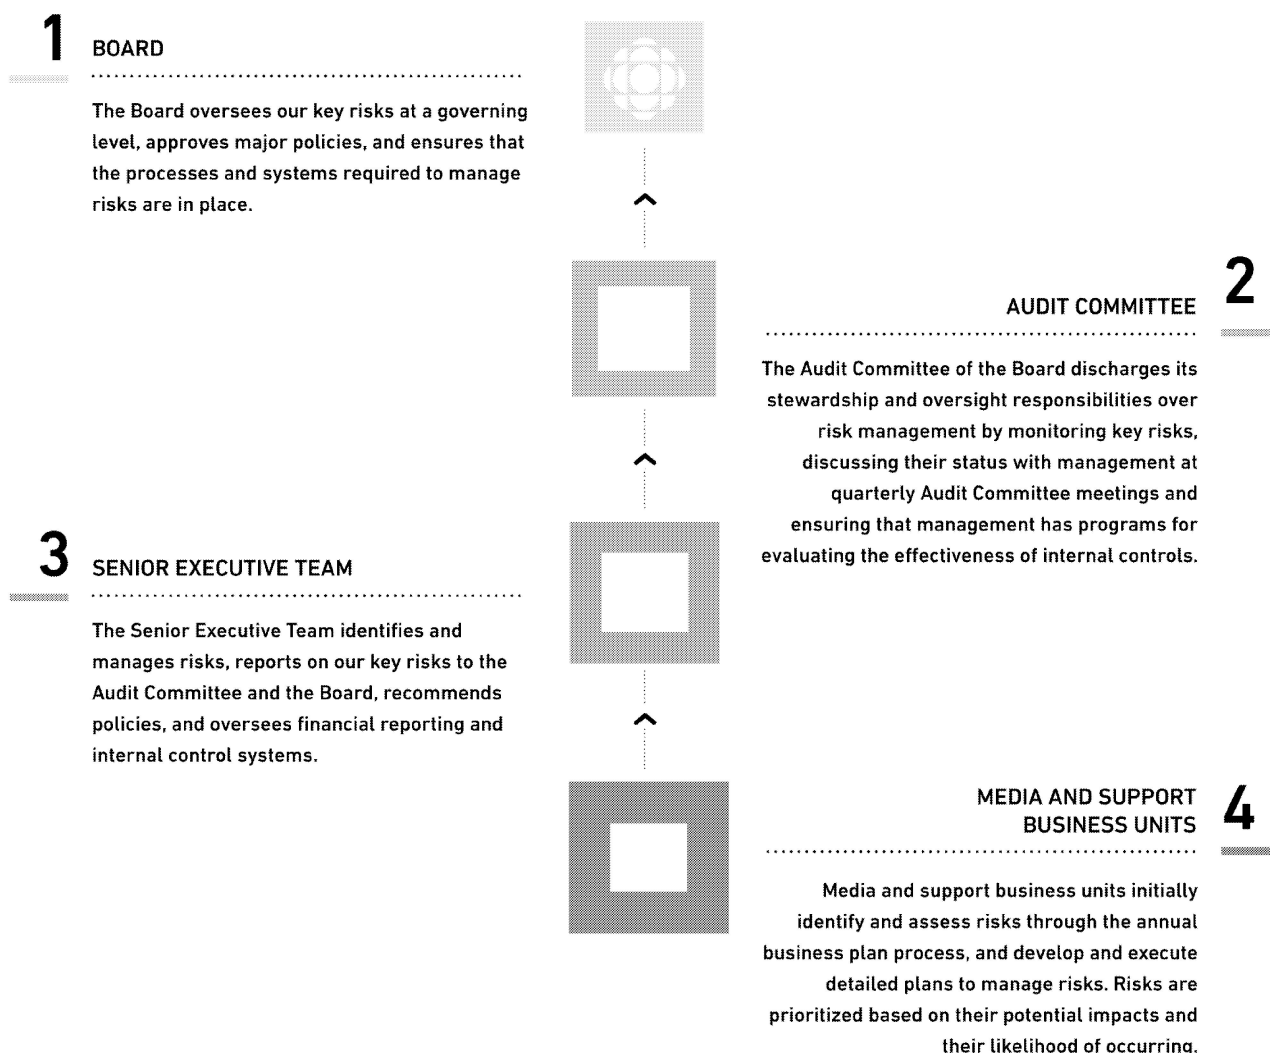

RISK MANAGEMENT AND GOVERNANCE

RISK MANAGEMENT AND KEY RISK TABLE

As Canada's national public broadcaster, CBC/Radio-Canada occupies an important place in the Canadian broadcasting system and faces a unique set of risks to its plans and operations. Like all broadcasters, the Corporation must adapt to technological changes, shifts in demographics and evolving consumer demands, as well as structural changes in the industry. Given our statutory mandate to serve all Canadians, CBC/Radio-Canada also faces unique public expectations and financial challenges.

It is CBC/Radio-Canada policy to develop, implement and practice effective risk management to ensure risks and opportunities that impact the Corporation's strategies, objectives and operations are identified, assessed and managed appropriately.

CBC/Radio-Canada's Risk Management Program is part of an enterprise-wide approach integrated into business processes. Responsibility for risk management is shared among CBC/Radio-Canada's Board of Directors, the Board's Audit Committee, the Senior Executive Team and operational units.

Internal Audit plans its audits in accordance with the results of the risk assessment process, and provides assurance that major risks are covered on a rotational basis by the annual audit plan.

The following table discusses the key risks faced by CBC/Radio-Canada during fiscal year 2015-2016 and the ongoing impact into 2016-2017.

KEY RISKS	RISK MITIGATION	FUTURE IMPACT
1. Strategy 2020 Implementation Our ability to deliver our mandate is challenged by a shift from traditional television to specialty television and digital platforms, rapid technology evolution, changing media consumption habits, and industry fragmentation. Strategy 2020 is a framework within which we can make strategic choices, even as market conditions and audience habits evolve. The ability to execute the strategy will determine achievement of plan objectives. The Government has pledged reinvestments in CBC/Radio-Canada ($75 million in 2016-2017 and $150 million for the four years thereafter) and we have developed spending priorities for this reinvestment consistent with Strategy 2020.	Review and refresh Strategy 2020 by incorporating the amount, timing and impact of the new incremental government funding into the strategic plan. Take leadership in initiating a conversation amongst key players to reshape ecosystem and industry funding requirements. Continue to promote and share strategic plan information with stakeholders both internally and externally. Emphasize context and shifts in the media landscape that demonstrate a need for our plan. Continue to reaffirm that changes associated with the strategy are needed to ensure that we are better positioned to meet the evolving needs of Canadians and the fundamental shifts transforming the media landscape. Take leadership in bringing together international public broadcasters to reflect on strategic challenges. Develop and implement change management strategies. Monitor implementation closely to ensure adherence to plan.	The strategic framework will position the Corporation to succeed now, as well as in an age beyond traditional broadcasting. It will ensure that the services we provide, and the operating model that supports those services, evolve in tandem with the changing expectations of Canadians and the movements of our industry.
2. Budget Concerns We face financial challenges that include an industry-wide softening of the advertising market and a shift of advertising dollars from traditional television to digital platforms. The implementation of the Let's Talk TV decisions, such as small basic packages and discretionary services being offered on a stand-alone basis or in small packages, may negatively impact subscriber and advertising revenue. The potential impact of such decisions will become clearer in the coming months.	Reductions required to finance Strategy 2020 have been identified and incorporated into the five-year financial plan developed to support the new strategy. Detailed monitoring is required to ensure expected outcomes are achieved. Assess potential ramifications of CRTC decisions to CBC/Radio-Canada revenues and operations, and develop, implement or modify strategies as required.	Further advertising weakening and reduced subscriber revenues may require changes to implementation plans.
3. Workforce Challenges – Recruiting, Training, Retaining and Empowering a Skilled Workforce The degree to which staff is aligned with our strategic plan will have an impact on engagement, retention and our ability to achieve objectives. Managers and employees require the necessary skill set to adapt to an accelerated pace of change and the transformation needs of Strategy 2020. Staff reductions create a climate of uncertainty and stress that may lead to reduced morale, lower productivity and increased turnover.	Develop and implement an enterprise change management plan, including support activities linked to major projects that enable Strategy 2020. Change management activities will include the following: transparent communication to employees and unions; involvement of employees in change; continued investment in learning and development (including digital skills); and increased efforts to recognize employee contributions. Implement action plans to address recommendations of the Rubin Report and our commitment to a respectful work environment for all employees. Implement action plans to address the 2015 Employee Dialogue Survey results, as well as perform an Employee Dialogue Survey in fall 2016 to ascertain the effectiveness of the action plan.	The retention and engagement of a strong workforce is essential to achieve our strategic objectives. We will maintain our momentum to train people for this new digital world, train leaders to even better-support their teams, and continue building a strong foundation of business skills across the Corporation.

KEY RISKS	RISK MITIGATION	FUTURE IMPACT
4. Reputation and Brand Management CBC and Radio-Canada are among the most prominent and most discussed brands in the country. In addition, they are brands that every Canadian feels rightly justified in having and expressing an opinion on. At any time, an event or an incident, large or small, can touch a nerve and instigate a controversy of national proportions. There is a risk that negative perceptions of CBC/Radio-Canada may undermine credibility and stakeholder support.	Use of a comprehensive issue management system that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◦ monitors the environment; ◦ identifies potential issues and the stakeholder groups they could affect; ◦ prepares for them; and ◦ provides messaging and guidance to senior leaders, line managers and communications staff across the system. Ensure that a strong crisis management response that stresses transparency and decisive action is implemented to address critical issues.	Clear and transparent action plans to deal with critical issues will improve credibility and stakeholder support.
5. Union Relations and Negotiations There are a number of agreements that are expired or expiring in the upcoming months. Negotiations underway include the collective agreement for the new merged French union represented by the Syndicat des Communications de Radio-Canada (SCRC), Association des réalisateurs (AR), Canadian Media Guild (CMG), Association of Professionals and Supervisors (APS), Union des Artistes (UDA), and ACTRA. There is a risk that prolonged proceedings to resolve the Radio-Canada union structure will make the negotiation of the first collective agreement long and difficult. This could negatively affect the working relationship between management and employees, and negatively affect implementation plans of Strategy 2020 and the attainment of plan objectives. There is a risk of disruption to operations due to labour stoppage(s) triggered during multiple negotiations.	Continue transparent communications to employees and unions, and involvement of employees in the development of strategic initiatives. Develop clear negotiation mandates that ensure flexibility in working conditions and reduction of jurisdictional barriers between bargaining units. Pending a Court of Appeal hearing on merging the two Radio-Canada bargaining units into one, commence negotiation with the new bargaining unit, Syndicat des Communications de Radio-Canada (SCRC), for its first collective agreement and with Association des réalisateurs (AR) members. Update contingency plans in case of labour disruption.	Continue negotiations with the bargaining units.
6. Real Estate Replacement and Optimization There are risks that infrastructure replacement and optimization projects may be delayed or are unsuccessful, leading to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◦ continued risk of ownership (capital and operating costs and management of excess space); and ◦ inability to achieve stated real estate footprint reduction target of approximately two million square feet by 2020. 	Sell or reduce space in non-functional or under-utilized buildings when positive business case exists. Continue competitive leasing strategy for surplus facilities.	Continue with initiatives to sell or rent excess capacity in our facilities. We are working to review potential scenarios on the Maison de Radio-Canada redevelopment project reinitiated in November 2015. On May 18, 2016, the Board of Directors shortlisted two proposals, both of which would see the public broadcaster's Montreal home remain on a portion of the same site. The proposals will be assessed to determine the one that best suits our needs (functional, technical and financial). Regarding the sale of the existing facility, the final phase of the process will continue with four proponents. The final choice of proposal, both for the new MRC and the sale of the existing facility, is expected in fall 2016 and will need to be approved by the Treasury Board. A project is underway to consider our options with respect to the Toronto Broadcast Centre.

KEY RISKS	RISK MITIGATION	FUTURE IMPACT
7. Information Security There is a risk that CBC/Radio-Canada is not sufficiently prepared to manage cyber threats that have the potential to significantly disrupt operations (capacity to be on air and availability of our digital services) and/or damage our brand.	Monitor and assess network security and system vulnerabilities. Implement enhanced Information Security rules, guidelines and procedures and increase staff awareness and training on Information Security topics. Review and augment, as necessary, the Crisis Management Response Plan for Information Security incidents.	Continue and refine identified strategies.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION AND PROACTIVE DISCLOSURE

During 2015-2016 CBC/Radio-Canada answered all Access to Information Act (ATI) requests on time except for three. The downward trend in ATI-related complaints received by the Corporation continued during 2015-2016, with only 27 such complaints being received. This is the lowest number of complaints received by the Corporation since becoming subject to the Access to Information Act in 2007.

2015-2016 Access to Information Act requests:

108 formal requests answered (10,336 pages released)

26 informal requests answered (6,357 pages released)

17 consultations

3,048 pages of records and Board of Directors meeting minutes proactively released

For a total of 20,362 pages

CBC/Radio-Canada also proactively posts records released in answer to ATI requests that are of general interest to Canadians. During 2015-2016, more than 7,500 pages of records released in answer to 59 such ATI requests were posted on the Corporation's website.

In December 2015, CBC/Radio-Canada received an 'A' rating from the Information Commissioner of Canada for its 2013-2014 performance. This is the third 'A' the Corporation has received in a row from the Commissioner and reflects the Corporation's continued commitment to fulfilling its responsibilities under the Access to Information Act.

ANNUAL PUBLIC MEETING

The public broadcaster's 2015 Annual Public Meeting (APM) took place at the University of Winnipeg in September 2015. This year's theme was "invite. ignite. inspire.", and included a conversation with four young Winnipeggers who are raising the bar on engagement within their communities. This year, our approach was to support our strategy of enhancing the public broadcaster as Canada's public space by using the strategic pillar of "Community" as the fifth platform. We offered our APM as a platform to engage with the community and make it shine across the country. Approximately 675 people participated online and in person.

CODE OF CONDUCT

CBC/Radio-Canada employees at all levels are expected to adhere to the Code of Conduct and policies governing their behaviour in such areas as respect for democracy, respect for people, integrity, stewardship and excellence. Our Code of Conduct and human resources policies can be viewed on our corporate website.

JOURNALISTIC STANDARDS AND PRACTICES

CBC/Radio-Canada has an extensive code of Journalistic Standards and Practices and editorial control mechanisms to guide employees and to ensure that our programming remains balanced and accurate, particularly in today's social media environment. You can view CBC/Radio-Canada's Journalistic Standards and Practices on our corporate website.

OMBUDSMEN

Public complaints about news and current affairs programming that are not resolved at the program level to the satisfaction of the complainants are dealt with by the Corporation's two Ombudsmen. The Ombudsmen are completely independent of CBC/Radio-Canada programming staff and programming management, and report directly to the President and CEO and, through the President and CEO, to the Board of Directors. The role of the Ombudsmen is pivotal in strengthening the national public broadcaster's accountability and transparency to Canadians.

2015-2016 complaints, expressions of concerns and other communications to the Ombudsmen:

4,169 handled (▼ 554 compared to last year)

COMPLIANCE WITH THE CANADIAN ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT ACT

CBC/Radio-Canada uses a risk-based approach to facilitate compliance with Sections 67-69 of the Canadian Environmental Assessment Act, 2012. As part of the established process, a project manager must complete a checklist for all physical activities prior to the initiation of the project. The checklist details the scope and description of the project and is our formal tool to ensure the project examines any potential adverse environmental impacts, including but not limited to, asbestos, halocarbons, mould, fuel storage tanks, water or air quality, etc. The checklist also allows us to describe any appropriate action needed to minimize any effects identified.

As per the process outlined above, no project completed in the 2015-2016 fiscal year was determined to result in a significant adverse environmental effect.

It should be noted that CBC/Radio-Canada considers a physical activity as something that goes beyond normal maintenance, such as removing a wall, replacing equipment or excavating a parking lot. For the purposes of this approach, painting walls or maintaining equipment is considered maintenance work.

DIRECTOR CHANGES

As noted in last year's annual report, Rob Jeffery was appointed to the Board of Directors for a five-year term on April 30, 2015. Effective June 1, 2015, Edward W. Boyd was renewed for a second five-year term. On June 18, 2015, Norman May was appointed to the Board of Directors for a five-year term.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

INTERNAL CONTROLS

The Corporation has an internal control program based on the 2013 Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO) framework, which requires periodic reviews of key controls over financial reporting. This program continues to evolve towards industry best practices, with an aim to maintain and strengthen policies and procedures that ensure the reliability of financial information and the safeguarding of assets.

A dedicated internal control team reviews and evaluates key internal controls over financial reporting on an ongoing basis. This program is supported by the Corporation's internal auditors, who conduct audits and reviews (some of which relate to financial reporting and operations) identified using a risk-based approach and agreed upon through discussions with the Corporation and its Audit Committee.

In 2015-2016, the Corporation assessed the design and operating effectiveness of certain key internal controls over financial reporting. The assessment did not identify any material weaknesses in the operating effectiveness of the internal controls, but identified some opportunities for improvements for which management has developed an action plan, many elements of which have already been implemented. The Corporation will continue to address opportunities for improvement in the coming year.

MANAGEMENT'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The consolidated financial statements and all other information presented in this Annual Report are the responsibility of management and have been reviewed and approved by the Board of Directors of the Corporation. These consolidated financial statements, which include amounts based on management's best estimates as determined through experience and judgment, have been properly prepared within reasonable limits of materiality and are in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards.

Management of the Corporation maintains books of account, records, financial and management controls, and information systems, which are designed to provide reliable and accurate financial information on a timely basis. The controls provide reasonable assurance that assets are safeguarded, that resources are managed economically and efficiently in the attainment of corporate objectives, that the operations of the Corporation are carried out effectively, and that transactions are in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part X of the Financial Administration Act and regulations, Part III of the Broadcasting Act and the bylaws of the Corporation.

The Corporation's Internal Auditor has the responsibility for assessing the Corporation's systems, procedures and practices. The Auditor General of Canada conducts an independent audit of the annual consolidated financial statements and reports on his audit to the Minister of Canadian Heritage.

The Board of Directors' Audit Committee, which consists of five members, none of whom is an officer of the Corporation, reviews and advises the Board on the consolidated financial statements and the Auditor General's report thereto. The Audit Committee oversees the activities of Internal Audit and meets with management, the internal auditor and the Auditor General on a regular basis to discuss the financial reporting process, as well as auditing, accounting and reporting issues.

Report on the Consolidated Financial Statements

I have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 March 2016, and the consolidated statement of income, consolidated statement of comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on my audit. I conducted my audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation as at 31 March 2016, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

As required by the Financial Administration Act, I report that, in my opinion, the accounting principles in International Financial Reporting Standards have been applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Further, in my opinion, the transactions of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and its wholly-owned subsidiary that have come to my notice during my audit of the consolidated financial statements have, in all significant respects, been in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part X of the Financial Administration Act and regulations, Part III of the Broadcasting Act and the by-laws of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and its wholly-owned subsidiary.

NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED STATEMENTS FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2016

1. GENERAL INFORMATION

CBC/Radio-Canada (the Corporation) was first established by the 1936 Broadcasting Act. The Corporation, a federal Crown Corporation domiciled in Canada, is an agent of Her Majesty and all assets and liabilities are those of the Government. Its registered office is located at 181 Queen Street, Ottawa ON K1P 1K9. The Corporation is accountable to Parliament through the Minister of Canadian Heritage and in accordance with section 85(1.1) of the Financial Administration Act, the Corporation is exempt from certain sections from Divisions I to IV of Part X of the Act.

As the national public broadcaster, the Corporation provides radio, television and digital services in both official languages, delivering predominantly and distinctly Canadian programming to reflect Canada and its regions to national and regional audiences.

These consolidated financial statements have been authorized for issuance by the Board of Directors on June 22, 2016.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

These consolidated financial statements were prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) and as adopted by the Accounting Standards Board (AcSB). The Corporation has consistently applied the same accounting policies throughout all periods presented, as if these policies had always been in effect. All amounts are in Canadian dollars, which is our functional currency, and rounded to the nearest thousand, unless otherwise noted. These consolidated financial statements were prepared on a historical cost basis, except for pension plans and post-employment benefits which are measured on an actuarial basis, as described in the notes.

B. BASIS OF PREPARATION

This section includes certain of the Corporation's accounting policies that relate to these consolidated statements as a whole, as well as estimates and judgments it has made and how they affect the amounts reported in the consolidated financial statements. Management developed estimates and made critical judgments in the process of applying the Corporation's policies. These critical accounting estimates and judgments could have a significant effect on the amounts reported in these consolidated financial statements since materially different amounts could be reported under different conditions or using different assumptions. Where an accounting policy is applicable to a specific note to the financial statements, the policy is described within that note.

1) PRINCIPLES OF CONSOLIDATION

Accounting Policies

The Corporation consolidates the financial statements of all its subsidiaries (ARTV and Documentary Channel `documentary') and structured entities (the Broadcast Centre Trust and the CBC Monetization Trust) from the date it gained control until the date its control ceases. Subsidiaries and structured entities are entities we control. Control is achieved by having each of:

- * Power over the investee through giving the Corporation the right to direct the relevant activities of the investee;
- * Exposure, or rights, to variable returns from involvement with the investee; and
- * The ability for the Corporation to exercise its power over the investee to affect the returns of the investee.

The accounting policies of the subsidiaries and structured entities are consistent with those of the Corporation. All intra-company transactions, balances, income and expenses are eliminated in full on consolidation. Changes in the Corporation's interests in subsidiaries that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions.

Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments

The Corporation consolidates the CBC Monetization Trust and the Broadcast Centre Trust, as it judges that it controls these investees, as defined in IFRS 10 Consolidated Financial Statements.

Information about the Corporation's subsidiaries and structured entities

Subsidiaries

The Corporation's two Canadian subsidiaries are:

	OWNERSHIP	PRINCIPAL ACTIVITY	HOW THE CORPORATION HAS ACHIEVED CONTROL
documentary	2016: 82% / 2015: 82%	Specialty service broadcasting documentaries	Majority interest and active participation on documentary's Board of Directors and Board sub-committees.
ARTV	2015 and 2016: 100%	French-language arts and entertainment specialty channel	Wholly-owned subsidiary – full control over ARTV's relevant activities.

Since documentary's fiscal year end is August 31, additional financial statements corresponding to the Corporation's reporting period are prepared for consolidation purposes.

There are no significant restrictions imposed on the Corporation's ability to access or use assets and settle the liabilities of documentary and ARTV. Specifically, there are no significant restrictions imposed on the Corporation or its subsidiaries relating to their ability to transfer funds to their investors.

Structured entities

The Corporation has two structured entities:

The Broadcast Centre Trust (The "BCT") - In order to finance the construction of the Canadian Broadcasting Centre (the building), the BCT issued $400 million of bonds on January 30, 1997 maturing in May 2027, which are guaranteed by the rent payments for the premises occupied by the Corporation. The rent payable by the Corporation to the BCT covers all interest and principal on the bonds, all other payments on the bonds and all operating expenses and liabilities of the BCT. The BCT is:

- A lessee under a long-term lease with the Corporation for the land on which the building is located in Toronto and for which a one dollar rent was paid on October 1, 1988; and
- A lessor under a long-term sub-lease with the Corporation for the building.

The Corporation also guarantees, through its rent payments to the BCT, the bonds payable. See Note 16 for further details.

The Broadcast Centre Trust (the "BCT")	Charitable trust	Entity designed to conduct a narrow well-defined activity of leasing on behalf of the CBC, with the Corporation having the ultimate decision making powers over relevant activities	March 31 year-end

The CBC Monetization Trust - In 2003, the Corporation sold two parcels of land to Ontrea Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan Board, for the consideration of two promissory notes receivable. The CBC Monetization Trust was created in 2009 with the purpose of acquiring the Corporation's interest in the promissory notes receivable.

Through the CBC Monetization Trust, the Corporation has two promissory notes receivable and an investment in finance lease relating to the sale and rental of parcels of land. These receivables are pledged as collateral for their total carrying value to the Corporation's borrowings through notes payable. The Corporation provided an absolute and unconditional guarantee of the full and timely payments of receivables by the ultimate debtors until 2027. See Notes 7 and 8 for further information.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

II) OPERATING EXPENSESTelevision, Radio and Digital Services Costs

Television, radio and digital services costs are expensed when incurred and include all costs related to the production of programs, including direct out-of-pocket expenditures, departmental and administration expenses, the cost of activities related to technical labour and facilities. A portion of the expenses that are attributable to the cost of generating programming, such as services provided by Human Resources, Finance and Administration, Building Management and other shared services, as well as a portion of depreciation and amortization are also included in the related expenses. Television, radio and digital services costs also include programming-related activities, such as Marketing and Sales, Merchandising and Communications.

Transmission, Distribution and Collection Costs

Transmission, distribution and collection costs are expensed when incurred and include all costs related to the broadcasting of the Corporation's programs, including direct out-of-pocket expenditures, departmental and administration expenses, and the cost of activities related to technical labour. A portion of the expenses that are attributable to the cost of transmission and distribution, such as services provided by Human Resources, Finance and Administration, Building Management and other Shared Services, as well as a portion of depreciation and amortization are included in the related expenses.

III) FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENT

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. For financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorized into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs. The Corporation's fair value hierarchy prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value.

The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are:

Level 1 – Fair value measurement derived from quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 – Fair value measurements derived from inputs that are directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices) observable other than Level 1 inputs.

Level 3 – Fair value measurements derived from valuation techniques that require inputs which are both based on unobservable market data and significant to the overall fair value measurement.

IV) ASSET IMPAIRMENT

The carrying amounts of the Corporation's property and equipment, intangible assets, assets under finance leases and programming assets are reviewed at each reporting date at the cash-generating unit ("CGU") level to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. For the purpose of impairment testing, a CGU is the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or groups of assets. Assets are tested at the CGU level when they cannot be tested individually.

Assets that are not yet available for use are tested for impairment at every reporting period regardless of whether an impairment indicator exists.

Under the Corporation's business model, no assets are considered to generate cash flows that are largely independent of the cash flows of other assets and liabilities. Instead, all assets interact to create the "broadcast network production operation" which includes real estate, equipment and intangible assets. These operations are funded by overall parliamentary appropriations, national and local advertising and other commercial revenue. Overall levels of cash flow reflect public policy requirements and decisions. They reflect budgetary funding provided to the Corporation in its entirety. If there are indicators of impairment present, the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An impairment loss is recognized if the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its estimated recoverable amount.

V) DEFERRED CHARGES

Deferred charges are primarily composed of services paid in advance that will be received in a period that exceeds twelve months from the date of the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position.

VI) REGULATORY LICENCES

The Corporation holds licences, granted by the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission (CRTC), for all its conventional television, radio and specialty services. The Corporation is required to meet specific regulatory obligations in return for the privilege of holding a broadcasting licence. The Corporation has elected to record this non-monetary grant at its nominal value of nil.

VII) ADDITIONAL SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

To ease the reading of these consolidated financial statements, additional significant accounting policies, estimates and judgments (with the exception of those identified in Note 2) are disclosed throughout the notes, with the related financial disclosures. 3. NEW AND FUTURE CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A. ADOPTION OF NEW AND REVISED INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS

The Corporation did not adopt any new or revised accounting pronouncements that had a material impact on its March 31, 2016 year-end consolidated financial statements.

B. FUTURE ACCOUNTING CHANGES

The IASB has issued the following new standards and amendments to existing standards that were not yet effective and not applied as at March 31, 2016, which could potentially impact the consolidated financial statements of the Corporation. The Corporation does not anticipate early adoption of these standards at this time.

STANDARD	DESCRIPTION	IMPACT	EFFECTIVE DATE
IFRS 9 Financial Instruments	Issued to replace IAS 39 Financial instruments: recognition and measurement and all previous versions of IFRS 9. Classification, measurement and disclosure of financial instruments based on how an entity manages its financial instruments in the context of its business model and the contractual cash flow characteristics of its financial assets and liabilities. Includes a single, forward-looking 'expected loss' impairment model and a substantially-reformed approach to hedge accounting.	The Corporation is reviewing the standard to determine the potential impact, if any.	January 1, 2018, applied retrospectively with certain exceptions.
IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers	Issued to replace IAS 18 Revenues and IAS 11 Construction contracts and the related Interpretations when it becomes effective. It provides guidance on the recognition of revenue from contracts with customers, including multiple-element arrangements and transactions not previously addressed comprehensively, and enhanced disclosures about revenue. Revenue to be recognized when an entity transfers goods or services to a customer based upon the amount of consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled to from the customer. Goods or services transferred when the customer has control of them. Extensive new qualitative and quantitative disclosures designed to help investors understand the nature, amount, timing and uncertainty of revenue.	The Corporation is reviewing the standard as amended in April 2016 by the IASB to determine the potential impact.	January 1, 2018, applied retrospectively, with certain practical expedients available.
IFRS 16 Leases	Supersedes IAS 17 Leases and related interpretations. Eliminates the classification of leases as either operating or finance leases for a lessee as all leases are treated in a similar way to finance leases when applying IAS 17. Expected increase in leased assets and financial liabilities. Lessor accounting however remains largely unchanged and the distinction between operating and finance leases is retained. IFRS 16 has not yet been adopted by the AcSB, but is expected to be adopted shortly.	The Corporation is reviewing the standard to determine the potential impact.	January 1, 2019, applied retrospectively, with certain practical expedients available.
Amendments to IAS 1 Presentation of financial statements - Disclosure initiative	Issued to improve the effectiveness of presentation and disclosure in financial statements, with the objective of reducing immaterial note disclosures.	The Corporation has reviewed the standard and has determined the impact would be minimal given the presentation changes made to this year's annual consolidated financial statements.	January 1, 2016, applied prospectively.
Amendments to IAS 7 Statement of Cash Flows	Issued to require a reconciliation of the opening and closing financial position for each item for which cash flows have been, or would be, classified as financing activities, excluding equity items. Additional disclosures about matters that are relevant to understanding the entity's liquidity, such as restrictions that affect the decisions of an entity to use cash and cash equivalent balances.	The Corporation is reviewing the standard to determine the potential impact, if any.	January 1, 2017, applied prospectively.

4. CASH

	March 31, 2016	March 31, 2015
Cash on hand	577	682
Bank balances	155,888	214,202
	156,465	214,884

Interest revenue generated from bank balances and included in Financing income totaled $1.9 million for the year (2015 - $2.3 million).

5. TRADE AND OTHER RECEIVABLES

Trade and other receivables represent amounts the Corporation expects to collect from other parties. The Corporation's trade and other receivables are mainly derived from the sale of advertising airtime.

Accounting Policies

Trade and other receivables are recognized initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortized cost less an allowance for doubtful accounts. The Corporation recognizes an allowance for doubtful accounts for receivables where there is objective evidence of impairment. Objective evidence is determined in accordance with Note 25 – Impairment of financial assets.

Before accepting new advertising customers, the Corporation reviews the credit application submitted by the customer. An external credit scoring agency may be used to assess the potential customer's credit quality and define credit limits by customer.

Limits and scoring attributed to customers are reviewed at least once a year to determine whether adjustments are required. In addition, the Corporation monitors its customers throughout the year for any indications of deterioration in credit quality.

When a trade receivable is uncollectible, it is written off against the allowance for doubtful accounts. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited to the consolidated statement of income (loss) in television, radio and digital services costs expenses.

Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments

Determining when there is reasonable expectation that the Corporation will not be able to collect some of the amounts due requires judgment.

Supporting information

	March 31, 2016	March 31, 2015
Trade receivables	123,121	140,999
Allowance for doubtful accounts	(2,058)	(2,683)
Other	15,307	13,128
	136,370	151,444

Trade receivables disclosed above include amounts (see paragraph A below) that are past due at the end of the reporting period for which the Corporation has not recognized an allowance for doubtful accounts because there has not been a significant change in credit quality and the amounts are still considered recoverable.

Consistent with others in the industry, the Corporation makes most of its conventional advertising sales through agencies. These agencies typically remit their payment over a period exceeding the Corporation's average credit term of 30 days. As such, a significant portion of the Corporation's trade receivables are past due but not impaired.

Since the Corporation is largely funded through parliamentary appropriations, it has determined that it is not subject to the concentration of credit risk typical of broadcasters who mostly rely on commercial revenue. The Corporation has no material concentration of credit risk with any single customer and mitigates the credit risk of advertising receivables by performing initial and ongoing credit evaluations of advertising customers.

The Corporation does not hold any collateral or other credit enhancements over these balances.

6. PROGRAMMING

Programming consists of internally produced television programs, externally produced television programs that require the Corporation's involvement during the production, and acquired license agreements for programming material.

Accounting Policies

Programming completed and in the process of production (excluding acquired license agreements) is recorded at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated write offs, on an individual basis. Costs include materials and services, labour and other direct expenses applicable to programming.

Payments made under the terms of each acquired license agreement are recorded as either current or non-current programming. License agreements are recorded as current programming if the rights to broadcast start within the next twelve months and as non-current programming if the right to broadcast starts beyond twelve months. Non-current programming rights are transferred to current programming once they are expected to be broadcast within the next twelve months.

Programming costs are recognized in television, radio and digital services costs on the Consolidated Statement of Income (Loss), according to the expense recognition schedule described in this section, or when deemed unusable, or when sold.

The amortization of programming costs is subject to the following expense recognition schedule, which is based on intended use. The Corporation's intended use of programming is reviewed at each year-end. In determining intended use, the Corporation considers program contract terms, past audience experience, and future telecast plans.

Costs of programs that are not considered to be recoverable are written off and recorded in the Consolidated Statement of Income (loss) as television, radio and digital services costs.

Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments

The Corporation is required to determine an appropriate amortization rate for each type of programming. Management's intended use for each program-type considers program contract terms, past audience experience and future telecast plans when determining the expense recognition schedule for programming.

There are a number of uncertainties inherent in estimating management's foreseeable use of its programming assets, particularly as they relate to assumptions regarding viewership patterns and consumption habits. Management periodically reviews amortization rates.

Changes in these assumptions could result in adjustments to amounts recognized in the Statement of Financial Position and Statement of Income (Loss).

The Corporation has estimated the value of non-monetary consideration provided to Rogers Communications Inc. (Rogers) for Hockey Night in Canada sublicensing over the remainder of the contract term. See Note 6.B. for more information.

Expense recognition schedule

For programs with multiple telecasts, management uses the following recognition basis:

Category	Description	Expense recognition schedule by telecast

Expenses are recognized on a straight line basis over the broadcast right period for ICI ARTV and ICI Explora.

No changes in estimates were reflected in this fiscal year's expense recognition schedule.

The programming write-offs included in the Programs broadcast line in the above table for the year ended March 31, 2016, amount to $3.5 million (2015 – $5.0 million). Programming write-offs are mainly due to terminated projects, programs not telecast in the past two years, programming not suitable for telecast or pilots not progressing into a series.

During 2014-2015, the Corporation's agreement with Rogers Communications Inc. (Rogers) commenced for the continued airing of Hockey Night in Canada for Saturday night and playoff hockey. Under this arrangement, the Corporation has acquired the right to broadcast hockey in exchange for providing Rogers with facilities and production services, use of certain trademarks and with airtime to generate advertising revenue. The agreement is for five years, after an optional one-year extension was exercised at Rogers' discretion during the current year.

As no monetary amounts are to be exchanged, an estimate of the value of five year broadcast license acquired was calculated based on the fair value of assets given-up and has been recorded as Programming in the Corporation's consolidated financial statements. The fair value of facilities, production services and trademarks to be used by Rogers was determined using market rates. The fair value of airtime provided to Rogers was determined using the Corporation's advertising rate cards for the programs displaced as a result of airing hockey. An estimate of the corresponding costs associated with the provision of facilities and production services as well as deferred revenue was recorded in the liabilities of the Corporation's consolidated financial statements. The Corporation is recognizing these items in revenue and expenses over the five-year term of this agreement as games are aired and as related services are provided.

7. PROMISSORY NOTES RECEIVABLE

Through the CBC Monetization Trust, a structured entity, the Corporation has two promissory notes receivable relating to the sale of parcels of land. These notes, which mature in May 2027, bear a fixed annual interest rate of 7.15%, with payments made in arrear in equal blended monthly instalments.

The notes have a carrying value of $43.2 million (March 31, 2015 – $45.6 million) and are pledged as collateral for their total carrying value to the Corporation's borrowings through notes payable.

The Corporation provided an absolute and unconditional guarantee of the full and timely payment of receivables by the ultimate debtors until 2027.

The Corporation also holds a promissory note receivable from SiriusXM Canada Holdings Inc. that is non-interest bearing and is expected to be repaid within the next five years. The carrying amount at March 31, 2016, is $0.4 million (March 31, 2015 – $0.4 million).

Future minimum payments receivable under the term of the notes are as follows:

8. INVESTMENT IN FINANCE LEASE

The investment in finance lease, which is held by CBC Monetization Trust, relates to the rental of two parcels of land in Toronto that bear an implicit annual interest rate of 7.15% and with terms ending in May 2027. The lease receivables are pledged as collateral for their total carrying value to the Corporation's borrowings through the notes payable.

The Corporation provided an absolute and unconditional guarantee of the full payment and timely payments of the finance lease by the ultimate debtors until 2027.

9. PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

The majority of the Corporation's tangible assets are the buildings and technical equipment. These assets are depreciated over their estimated useful lives.

Accounting Policies

Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments

Recognition and measurement

Property and equipment are recorded at cost less accumulated depreciation. Cost includes expenditures that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the items. The cost of assets constructed by the Corporation includes material, direct labour and related overheads. Amounts included in uncompleted capital projects are transferred to the appropriate property and equipment classification upon completion.

Depreciation

Depreciation of property and equipment is calculated using the straight-line method based on rates based on the estimated useful life of the property and equipment, and begins when an asset becomes available for its intended use. Where major parts of an asset have useful lives different from the asset as a whole, they have been componentized and depreciated according to the major components to which they pertain. The cost of replacing a part of an item of property and equipment is recognized in the carrying amount of the item if it is probable that the future economic benefits embodied within the part will flow to the Corporation and its cost can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognized. Items of property and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses.

Leasehold improvements are capitalized and then depreciated over the shorter of the lease term and the asset's useful life.

Assets held for sale

The Corporation classifies an asset as held for sale if its carrying amount will be recovered principally through a sale rather than through continuing use. This condition is met only when the sale is highly probable and the asset is available for immediate sale in its present condition. Assets held for sale are measured at the lower of their carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell.

Derecognition

The Corporation derecognizes an item of property and equipment on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use. The gain or loss arising from the disposal or retirement of an item of property and equipment is determined as the difference between the sale net proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, and is recognized as a non-operating item in the Consolidated Statement of Income (Loss).

The Corporation is required to estimate the expected useful lives of property and equipment. In determining the expected useful lives of these assets, the Corporation takes into account past experience, industry trends and internally-specific factors, such as changing technologies and expectations for the in-service period of these assets.

The appropriateness of useful lives of these assets and depreciation method are assessed annually, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

Changes to useful life estimates would affect future depreciation or amortization expenses and future carrying values of assets. Useful lives of property and equipment are included in the table below.

When an item of property and equipment comprises individual components for which different depreciation methods or rates are appropriate, judgment is used in determining the appropriate level of componentization.

Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments (continued)

The useful lives used in the calculation of depreciation are as follows:

Buildings	15 to 65 years
Technical equipment
Transmitters and towers	20 years
Electrical equipment	16 years
Other	8 years
Furnishings and office equipment	10 years
Computers (hardware)

The contractual commitments for the acquisition of property and equipment are $21.0 million as at March 31, 2016 (March 31, 2015 – $11.9 million).

The depreciation for the year has been recorded in the Corporation's Consolidated Statement of Income (Loss) as follows:

Television, radio and digital services costs	80,031	88,118
Transmission, distribution and collection	21,832	22,112

Total	102,242	110,650

B. IMPAIRMENT AND OTHER CHARGES

There were no impairment losses recorded or reversed during the year ended March 31, 2016 (2015 – nil).

C. ASSETS CLASSIFIED AS HELD FOR SALE

Consistent with the Corporation's financial plan to reduce its real estate footprint, several properties were classified as held for sale for accounting purposes as at March 31, 2016 that have a total carrying value of $3.5 million (March 31, 2015 - $1.6 million). These properties are expected to be sold on a site by site basis over the next twelve months.

D. DISPOSALS

During the fiscal year, the Corporation sold its mobile assets, a property located in Sudbury (Ontario) and properties located in Iqaluit (Nunavut), Gander (Newfoundland), Grand Falls (New Brunswick) and Saint-Norbert (Québec) that were previously held for sale. The proceeds on the sale of these assets were $10.1 million and resulted in a gain of $3.6 million.

The Corporation also recorded a gain of $1.1 million (2015 - $8.7 million) for insurance proceeds related to a mobile production vehicle that was damaged beyond repair in May 2014. In addition, a loss of $2.4 million related to this mobile unit was recorded during 2014-2015.

During the fiscal year, the Corporation recorded a loss of $2.5 million for the partial derecognition of a component of the TBC building, which was replaced by a new one.

During 2014-2015, the Corporation sold properties located in Halifax, Nova Scotia, Windsor, Ontario and Yellowknife, Northwest Territories that were previously held for sale. The proceeds on the sale of these properties were $7.6 million and resulted in a gain of $2.7 million.

Other net gains and losses during the current and the previous fiscal years resulted from the disposal or retirements of equipment as part of the Corporation's normal asset refresh cycle.

10. INTANGIBLE ASSETS

Intangible assets are non-monetary assets which are identifiable, represent future economic benefits and are controlled by the Corporation. The Corporation's intangible assets comprise software acquired separately and internally developed software for internal use.

Accounting Policies

Software acquired separately is recorded at cost at the acquisition date.

Expenditures relating to internally developed computer software applications are capitalized when the following criteria are met:

- * The applications are technically feasible;
- * The Corporation intends to complete the asset and to use it;
- * The Corporation has the ability to use the asset;
- * The development costs can be reliably measured;
- * The Corporation has the adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development of the asset and to use it; and
- * It is probable that the asset will generate future economic benefits.

The amount initially recognized for internally developed software is the total of the expenditure incurred from the date the intangible asset first meets the recognition criteria listed above. Capitalization ceases when the developed asset is ready for use.

Subsequent expenditures on an intangible asset after its purchase or completion are recognized as expenses when incurred, unless it is probable that these expenditures will enable the asset to generate future economic benefits in excess of its originally assessed standard of performance, and the expenditure can be measured and attributed to the asset reliably. Where no internally developed software can be recognized, development expenditures are recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Income (Loss) in the period in which they are incurred.

Subsequent to initial recognition, software acquired separately and internally developed software are reported at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses. Amortization is recognized on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives (three to five years) and the amortization expense is allocated between the various functions on the Consolidated Statement of Income (Loss), for presentation purposes.

The Corporation derecognizes an intangible asset on disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. The gain or loss arising from the disposal or retirement of an intangible asset is determined as the difference between the sale net proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized as a non-operating item in the Consolidated Statement of Income (Loss).

Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments

The Corporation uses judgment to determine whether expenditures it has made on intangible items meet the recognition criteria for capitalization. Since intangible assets are accounted for at cost and amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives, the Corporation is required to estimate the expected useful lives of these assets.

In determining the expected useful lives of these assets, the Corporation takes into account past experience, industry trends and internally-specific factors, such as changing technologies and expectations for the in-service period of these assets.

The appropriateness of useful lives of these assets and their amortization method are assessed annually with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

Changes to useful life estimates would affect future amortization expenses and future carrying values of assets.

11. ASSETS UNDER FINANCE LEASES

Assets under finance lease consisted of a lease for satellite transponders and leasehold improvements with original lease terms of seventeen and seven years respectively.

Accounting Policies

Recognition and measurement

Assets acquired by way of a finance lease are stated at an amount equal to the lower of its fair value and the present value of minimum lease payments at inception of the lease, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses.

Depreciation

Assets under finance leases are depreciated over their expected useful lives on the same basis as owned assets or, where shorter, the term of the related lease unless it is reasonably certain the Corporation will obtain ownership by the end of the lease term.

Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments

The determination that an arrangement for satellite transponders and leasehold improvements constitutes a lease under IFRIC 4 Determining whether an arrangement contains a lease and the determination that this lease meets the criteria of a finance lease because the Corporation has a right to use the transponders and leasehold improvements conveyed by the agreements for substantially all of the estimated economic useful life of the leased assets.

12. INVESTMENT IN ASSOCIATE

An associate is an entity over which the Corporation has significant influence and that is neither a subsidiary nor an interest in a joint arrangement. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but does not result in control or joint control over those policies.

Accounting Policies

These financial statements incorporate the Corporation's share of the results of its associate, Sirius XM Canada Holdings Inc. (SiriusXM), using the equity method of accounting. SiriusXM follows similar accounting principles and policies to CBC/Radio-Canada.

The Corporation recognizes its investment in SiriusXM initially at cost, and then adjusts the carrying value based on the Corporation's share of SiriusXM income or loss. Distributions received by the Corporation from SiriusXM reduce the carrying amount of its investment.

When the Corporation transacts with its associate, profits and losses are eliminated to the extent of the Corporation's interest in the relevant associate.

Investments in associates are assessed for indicators of impairment at the end of each reporting period. Any impairment loss is recognized when the net carrying amount is not recoverable and exceeds its fair value.

Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments

The Corporation exercised significant influence over SiriusXM at March 31, 2016, while holding less than 20% voting control.

In assessing significant influence, judgment was used in determining that the seat the Corporation has on SiriusXM's Board of Directors (through its ownership interest) confers the Corporation the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of its investee.

Supporting Information

SiriusXM, a corporation located and domiciled in Canada, is a satellite radio communications company offering a variety of content on a subscription basis across Canada, including 6 channels carrying the Corporation's programming.

The equity-accounted investee information as at March 31 is summarized in the table below:

	Ownership interest held ¹		Voting interest held		Quoted Fair Value ²		Carrying Amount		Dividends received ³
	2016	2015	2016	2015	2016	2015	2016	2015	2016	2015
SiriusXM	10.15%	10.18%	9.64%	9.67%	$60.5M	$71.8M	2,496	-	$5.5M	$16.9M

¹As at March 31, 2016, the Corporation held 13,056,787 Class A Subordinate Voting Shares in SiriusXM.

²The quoted market value (fair value) was based on unadjusted quoted prices in active markets (Level 1).

³SiriusXM has a policy to pay dividends on a quarterly basis, as well as to issue special dividends at their discretion. Last year-end included the receipt of a special dividend of $10.4M (2016: none).

SiriusXM's fiscal year end is August 31 for financial reporting purposes, which differs from that of the Corporation. IAS 28, Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures, limits the difference between the end of the reporting period of an associate and that of the investor to no more than three months. As such, the Corporation has included its portion of the interim results of SiriusXM for the period up to February 29, 2016, which falls within the allowed three month window. This corresponds to the latest information available for SiriusXM that can be disclosed publicly.

On July 28, 2014, the Corporation sold 4.8 million of its Class A shares in SiriusXM for net proceeds and a gain of $33.5 million.

The summarized financial information presented below represents the amounts included in the IFRS financial statements of SiriusXM:

	March 31, 2016 ¹	March 31, 2015 ²
Current assets	36,441	41,866
Non-current assets	256,410	256,300
Current liabilities	(208,413)	(215,575)
Non-current liabilities	(218,431)	(211,069)
Net assets	(133,993)	(128,478)
Revenue	334,271	307,741
Net results and total comprehensive income (loss)	48,688	(17,548)

¹Amounts for the year ended March 31, 2016, include SiriusXM results/balances for the 12-month period ended February 29, 2016.

²Amounts for the year ended March 31, 2015, include SiriusXM results/balances for the 12-month period ended February 28, 2015.

A reconciliation of the summarized financial information above to the carrying amounts of SiriusXM recorded on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position is as follows:

	March 31, 2016	March 31, 2015
Opening balance	-	1,855
Share of results in associate ¹	7,980	-
Dividends received ¹	(5,484)	(1,855)
Balance, end of year	2,496	-

¹Total dividends received during the year ended March 31, 2016 amounted to $5.5 million (2015 - $16.9 million). In the prior year, dividends received grinded down the investment carrying value to nil. In the current year, the excess of dividends received over the investment carrying value of $8.0 million (2015 - $15.1 million) is recognized in net results under Share of results in associate.

Since the Corporation's share of losses and distributions exceeded its interest in SiriusXM in 2014-2015, its investment carrying value was grinded down to nil. In addition, the Corporation did not recognize losses totaling $2.4 million in relation to its interest in SiriusXM, because the Corporation had no obligation in respect of these losses. During the current year, the Corporation recognized gains totaling $4.9 million. However, $2.4 million of these gains offsetted prior year losses, which left the Corporation with a net gain of $2.5 million.

SiriusXM has no discontinued operations. There are no significant restrictions imposed on SiriusXM relating to their ability to transfer funds to their investors.

The Corporation has not incurred any contingent liabilities or commitments in relation to its associate.

13. ACCOUNTS PAYABLE AND ACCRUED LIABILITIES

Accounts payable and accrued liabilities mainly consist of amounts owed to suppliers and employees that have been invoiced or accrued.

14. PROVISIONS

Accounting Policies

Provisions are recognized when:

- The Corporation has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event;
- It is probable that the Corporation will be required to settle the obligation; and
- A reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. Where a provision is measured using the cash flow estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows.

Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments

When it has been determined by management that the Corporation has a provision to be accrued, assumptions about the amount and likelihood of outflows and their timing are considered in determining a reliable estimate for the obligation. Factors affecting these assumptions include the nature of the provision, the existence of the claim amount, opinions or views of legal counsel and other advisors, experience in similar circumstances, and any decision of management as to how the Corporation intends to handle the obligation.

In addition, the Corporation has provided for termination benefits which are also complex processes and involve making and reassessing estimates. The actual amount and timing of outflows may deviate from assumptions, and the difference might materially affect future consolidated financial statements, with a potentially adverse impact on the consolidated results of operations, financial position and liquidity.

A. RESTRUCTURING COSTS

Restructuring costs recognized last year relate to initiatives carried out as part of the Corporation's new strategic plan announced in June 2014 which requires a workforce reduction of up to 1,500 employees by 2020. During the year ended March 31, 2016, there were no new material restructuring announcements.

Expenses related to restructuring costs in connection with these workforce reductions comprise severance, benefits continuation and outplacement services, and were recognized where demonstrably committed and reasonable. All remaining amounts related to restructuring provisions are expected to be paid out within the next 12 months.

At March 31, 2016, the Corporation's provision related to termination benefits is immaterial (March 31, 2015 – $6.4 million) and is included in current liabilities.

The Corporation's decommissioning provision includes work associated with the shutdown of both analogue television and shortwave transmission services. At March 31, 2016, work associated with the provision has been completed and the balance was nil (March 31, 2015 – $2.1 million).

B. CLAIMS AND LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

Various claims and legal proceedings have been asserted or instituted against the Corporation. Some of these claims demand large monetary damages or other form of relief, and could result in significant expenditures. These claims consist mainly of copyright tariffs, grievances and other legal claims.

Litigation is subject to many uncertainties and the outcome of individual matters is not always predictable. Claims that are uncertain in terms of the outcome or potential outflow or that are not measurable are considered to be a contingency and are not recorded in the Corporation's consolidated financial statements. In addition, claims where cash outflows are not probable are considered as contingencies.

At March 31, 2016, the Corporation had provisions amounting to $24.2 million (March 31, 2015 – $32.0 million) in respect of legal claims. All matters are classified as current as, where estimable, the Corporation is working to resolve these matters within 12 months.

15. PENSION PLANS AND EMPLOYEE-RELATED LIABILITIES

The Corporation provides pension and long-term service retirement benefits based on the length of service and final average earnings of its employees, and other defined benefit post-employment benefit plans to its employees such as post-employment life insurance.

PENSION PLANS AND POST-EMPLOYMENT BENEFITS

Accounting Policies

The cost of the defined benefit retirement plans are determined on an actuarial basis using the projected unit credit method and management's best assumptions (such as the rate of compensation, inflation, retirement ages of employees and mortality of members), with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each annual reporting period.

The components of defined benefit costs are categorized as follows:

- Service cost - includes current service cost and past service cost. The Corporation recognizes it as part of net results for the period. Past service costs, generally resulting from changes in the benefits payable for past services under an existing plan, are recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Income (Loss) in the period of a plan amendment.
- Net interest expense or income - The Corporation recognizes it as part of net results for the period. Net interest is calculated by applying the discount rate at the beginning of the period to the net defined benefit liability or asset.

These two components, in aggregate, are allocated between the various functions on the Consolidated Statement of Income.

- Remeasurements - comprises actuarial gains and losses and the return on plan assets (excluding interest). These are reflected immediately in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position with a charge or credit recognized in other comprehensive income (loss) in the period in which they occur. Remeasurements recognized in other comprehensive income are never subsequently reclassified to net results. The Corporation transfers all remeasurements directly from other comprehensive income to retained earnings as a policy choice.

The liability recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position in respect of defined benefit pension plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets. The defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by independent actuaries using the projected unit credit method. The present value of the defined benefit obligation is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows using interest rate determined by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on high quality Canadian corporate bonds that have terms to maturity approximating the terms of the related defined benefit obligation.

When the actuarial calculation results in a benefit asset to the Corporation, the recognized asset is limited to the present value of economic benefits available in the form of any future refunds from the plan or reductions in future contributions to the plan. In order to calculate the present value of economic benefits, consideration is given to any minimum funding requirements that apply to any plan of the Corporation. An economic benefit is available if it is realizable during the life of the plan, or on settlement of the plan liabilities.

Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments

Accounting for defined benefit pension plans requires that assumptions be made to help value benefit obligations.

The primary assumptions and estimates include the discount rates, health care cost trend rates, long-term rate of compensation increase, future pension increases and mortality of members. These assumptions are of a long-term nature, which is consistent with the nature of post-employment benefits.

Changes to these primary assumptions and estimates would impact amounts recognized in net results and amounts recognized in Other Comprehensive Income, as applicable. A sensitivity analysis of these changes in primary assumptions is disclosed.

The Corporation maintains a contributory defined benefit pension plan, the CBC/Radio-Canada Pension Plan, covering substantially all employees of the Corporation. The Plan is administered by the CBC Pension Board of Trustees, including the management of the Plan's assets and the payment of benefits promised to Plan members and their survivors. The Plan is federally regulated and is governed by the provisions of the Pension Benefits Standards Act (the Act), and other applicable regulations.

Retirement benefits are based on the length of pensionable service and on the average of the best five consecutive years of pensionable salary in the last 10 years of employment. Employees are required to contribute a percentage of their pensionable salary to the Plan, with the Corporation providing the balance of the funding, as required, based on actuarial valuations. The amounts included in these consolidated financial statements reflect the latest funding valuation which was performed as of December 31, 2015. While this valuation has been completed, it has not yet been filed with the pension authorities. The Corporation also maintains unfunded non-contributory defined benefit pension arrangements. All plans are subject to an annual actuarial valuation.

The Corporation maintains a non-contributory long-term benefit plan for certain employees hired prior to the various plan closure dates which vary by category of employees between April 1, 2005 and October 1, 2007. Under the plan, employees retiring with more than three years of service with the Corporation can choose to receive a cash award upon retirement or improve their pension benefits. The benefits are based on the length of pensionable service and on the salary rate at March 2005, July 2005 or at retirement/death, depending on the category of employees. The Corporation also provides employee future benefits such as long-term disability and workers' compensation, continuation of benefits coverage for employees on long-term disability and post-retirement life insurance.

The last actuarial valuations for the non-contributory long-term benefit plan and the continuation of benefits coverage plan were made as at December 31, 2015. The measurement date for the pension plan assets and the defined benefit obligation is March 31, 2016.

The risks associated with the Corporation's defined benefit plan are as follows:

Funding risk: One of the primary risks that plan sponsors face is funding risk, which is the risk that the investment asset growth and contribution rates of the Corporation's pension plan will not be sufficient to cover the pension obligations, resulting in unfunded liabilities. When a funding deficit exists, regulatory authorities require that special payments be made over specified future periods.

The major contributors to funding risk are the declines in discount rates and investments failing to achieve expected returns. In addition, the pension obligations are affected by non-economic factors like changes in member demographics.

Funding risk is managed by monitoring and reviewing the funded ratio on an ongoing basis and ensuring that investment decisions are made in accordance with established investment policies and procedures and applicable legislation. The Statement of Investment Policies and Procedures (SIPP) is reviewed annually by the CBC Pension Board of Trustees with a view to provide the pension plans with long-term rate of return sufficient to assist the plans in meeting funding objectives and the ongoing growth of pension obligations.

Other risks: The plan assets are also subject to a variety of financial risks as a result of investment activities. These risks include credit risk, market risk (interest rate, currency risk and price risk) and liquidity risk. In addition, the defined benefit obligation and costs are subject to measurement uncertainty due to the use of actuarial assumptions (see below). The impact of these factors on the remeasurement of the pension benefit asset, and pension, other post-employment and other long-term benefit liabilities can be significant and volatile at times.

B. SIGNIFICANT ACTUARIAL ASSUMPTIONS

The significant actuarial assumptions used for the purposes of determining the defined benefit obligation and pension benefit costs were as follows:

Assumptions – annual rates	March 31, 2016	March 31, 2015
Assumptions for the calculation of pension benefit costs:
Discount rate	3.50%	4.25%
Assumptions for the calculation of the benefit obligation:
Discount rate - pension	3.75%	3.50%
Discount rate - long service gratuity	3.00%	2.75%
Discount rate - LTD benefit	3.00%	2.75%
Discount rate - life insurance	3.75%	3.50%
Mortality	CBC Pensioner mortality table based on CBC experience	CBC Pensioner mortality table based on CBC experience
Long-term rate of compensation increase, excluding merit and promotion	1.40% in 2016 & 2017 2.75% thereafter	1.40% in 2015 & 2016 2.75% thereafter
Health care cost trend rate	7.50% in 2016 declining to 4.50% over 10 years	7.53% in 2015 declining to 4.50% over 13 years
Indexation of pensions in payment	1.86%	1.86%

C. SENSITIVITY ANALYSIS

The sensitivity analysis of the significant actuarial assumptions would show the following changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligations:

	Pension plans		Other post-employment plans
	March 31, 2016	March 31, 2015	March 31, 2016	March 31, 2015
Discount rate sensitivity
100 basis points higher	-13.1%	-13.7%	-7.7%	-8.0%
100 basis points lower	16.8%	17.6%	9.1%	9.4%
Expected rate of future salary increases
100 basis points higher	2.9%	3.2%	5.7%	7.5%
100 basis points lower	-2.5%	-2.8%	-5.1%	-6.6%

100 basis points higher	13.4%	13.8%	N/A	N/A
100 basis points lower	-11.1%	-11.3%	N/A	N/A
Mortality sensitivity
Pensioners live an extra year	4.8%	4.8%	-1.7%	-1.6%

Health care cost trend rates sensitivity
100 basis points higher	N/A	N/A	1.0%	0.9%
100 basis points lower	N/A	N/A	-0.9%	-0.8%

N/A = not available

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

When calculating the sensitivity of the defined benefit obligation to significant actuarial assumptions the same method (present value of the defined benefit obligation calculated with the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period) has been applied as when calculating the pension liability recognized within the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position.

An asset/liability study is performed periodically to review the risk/reward associated with the existing long-term asset mix policy, analyze the risk/reward profile that would result from alternative asset mix policies, and consider the impact of various economic environments on both the assets and liabilities (pension obligations). The most recent asset/liability study was completed in 2015. Its main findings are summarized below:

- Maintained the value of the Plan's Liability Driven Investment (LDI)⁽³²⁾ strategy that focuses on reducing the interest rate and inflation risk mismatch between the Plan's assets and liabilities;
- Introduced a structure to systematically adjust the Plan's interest rate hedging ratio based on the level of interest rates;
- Recommended that the amount of return generating assets with higher return potential, such as equities, private investments and real estate be maintained at existing levels; and
- Introduced a quantified risk tolerance for the Plan.

The Plan is funded on the basis of actuarial valuations, which are made on an annual basis. Employees are required to contribute to the Plan a percentage of their pensionable salary. The Corporation provides the balance of the funding, as required, based on actuarial valuations.

D. CONTRIBUTION RATE

The contribution rate for full-time employees is as follows:

	2015-2016	2014-2015
For earnings up to the maximum public pension plan earnings ¹
April 1 to June 30	6.25%	6.19%
July 1 to March 31	6.98%	6.25%
For incremental earnings in excess of the maximum public pension plan earnings ¹
April 1 to June 30	8.22%	8.14%
July 1 to March 31	9.18%	8.22%

¹ The maximum public pension earnings for 2016 is $54,900 (2015: $53,600, 2014: $52,500).

E. TOTAL CASH PAYMENTS

Cash payments for pension, other post-employment and other long-term benefits for the Corporation were as follows:

	For the year ended March 31
	2016	2015
Benefits paid directly to beneficiaries	12,909	12,980
Employer regular contributions to pension benefit plans	56,163	60,062
Total cash payments for defined benefit plans	69,072	73,042

F. MATURITY PROFILE

The maturity profile of the benefit plan obligation and other post-employment benefits for the Corporation is as follows:

	Pension plans		Other post-employment plans
	March 31, 2016	March 31, 2015	March 31, 2016	March 31, 2015
Average duration of the benefit obligation	14.7 years	15.4 years	8.5 years	8.6 years
Active members	21.7 years	22.1 years	8.6 years	8.5 years
Deferred members	18.4 years	20.5 years	N/A	N/A
Retired members	10.7 years	10.9 years	7.7 years	10.3 years

N/A = not applicable

The Corporation expects to make a contribution of $51.8 million to the defined benefit pension plans during the next financial year. Over the next two years, the Corporation will be moving towards 50:50 current service cost-sharing between employees and employer for pension contributions for all members.

⁽³²⁾ LDI is an investment strategy that manages a pension plan's assets relative to its liabilities with the intent to minimize pension surplus volatility. Under LDI, pension plan assets are grouped into matched and unmatched assets. Matched assets (fixed income) have the similar interest rate and inflation sensitivities as the pension plan's liabilities. Unmatched assets (equities and alternative investments) do not have the same interest rate and inflation sensitivities as the pension plan's liabilities.

16. BONDS PAYABLE

The Broadcast Centre Trust (the "BCT") issued $400 million in secured bonds on January 30, 1997, which will mature in May 2027. The Corporation, through its relationship with the BCT, guarantees the bonds payable with its rent payments for the premises occupied by the Corporation in Toronto.

The bonds are secured by the assets of Canadian Broadcasting Centre, which have a carrying value of $187.4 million (March 31, 2015 - $198.1 million). They bear a fixed interest rate of 7.53% annually and require blended semi-annual payments of $16.5 million, which will require the following principal amounts:

17. OBLIGATIONS UNDER FINANCE LEASES

Obligations under finance leases mainly consist of satellite transponders and leasehold improvements. Payments made under finance leases are apportioned between financing costs and the reduction of the outstanding liability. The financing costs are allocated to each period so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability.

18. NOTES PAYABLE

The CBC Monetization Trust held notes payable which mature in May 2027 and bear interest at an annual rate of 4.688%. Blended semi-annual payments are made in May and November of each year.

The notes are redeemable at the CBC Monetization Trust's option in whole or in part from time to time before maturity, on not less than 30 days and not more than 60 days prior notice. The redemption price is the greater of the outstanding principal amount of the notes to be redeemed and the net present value of all scheduled semi-annual payments on the notes from the date of redemption to the date of maturity, using the Government of Canada yield plus 0.30% on such date, together, in each case, with accrued but unpaid interest to, but excluding, the redemption date. The notes payable are secured by the promissory notes receivable and the investment in finance lease described in Notes 7 and 8.

23. INCOME TAXES

CBC/Radio-Canada is a prescribed federal Crown corporation under Reg. 7100 of the Income Tax Act (ITA) and is subject to federal income tax as a prescribed corporation for purposes of subsection 27(2) of the ITA. The Corporation's activities are not subject to provincial taxes.

Accounting Policies

Management uses the liability method of accounting for income taxes. Under this method, Deferred Income Tax Assets and Liabilities are recognized based on the estimated tax effect of temporary differences between the carrying value of assets and liabilities on the financial statements and their respective tax bases.

Current tax

Taxable net results differs from net results as reported in the Consolidated Statement of Income (Loss) because of items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years or because of items that are never taxable or deductible. The Corporation's liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax

As a federal Crown Corporation that receives a substantial portion of its funding from the Government of Canada, the Corporation operates within a specific operating structure to match cash expenses with available resources, and to break even over the long term. The Corporation uses appropriations only to the extent required to fund its operating expenses, and may not borrow to fund working capital shortfalls. Therefore, the Corporation does not expect to generate material taxable income or losses in the periods that temporary differences are scheduled to reverse. Accordingly, the expected deferred tax asset or liability is not recognized in the consolidated financial statements as long as these specified operating conditions are met at the end of the reporting period.

Critical Estimates and Judgments

Management has used judgment to determine that, as of the reporting date, deferred taxes should not be recognized because the Corporation does not expect to generate material taxable income or losses in the periods temporary differences are scheduled to reverse due to its specific operating structure.

A. INCOME TAX RECOGNIZED IN NET RESULTS

The income tax expense for the year can be reconciled to the income tax expense that would be computed by applying the Corporation's federal statutory tax rate of 25.00% (2015 – 25.00%) to accounting profit as follows:

	For the year ended March 31
	2016	2015
Income tax provision at federal statutory rate	(15,998)	(11,848)
Permanent differences	387	(8,755)
Increase resulting from adjustment to reflect the expected income tax payable in future periods in respect of taxable and deductible temporary differences	15,611	20,603
Income tax expense recognized in net results	-	-

The tax rate used for the 2016 reconciliation above is the corporate tax rate payable by a corporation that is a prescribed Federal Crown Corporation under Part LXXI of the Income Tax Regulations and is subject to the provisions of the Income Tax Act (Canada). An adjustment to reflect the expected income tax payable in future periods in respect of taxable and deductible temporary differences is reflected above.

25. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Outlined below are the Corporation's financial instruments and related financial risk management objectives, its policies and its exposure and sensitivity to financial risks.

Accounting Policies

Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments

Recognition

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized when the Corporation becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. The Corporation measures financial instruments by grouping them into classes on initial recognition, based on the nature and purpose of the individual instruments. The Corporation classifies all of its non-derivative financial assets as either designated at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL) or loans and receivables. The Corporation classifies non-derivative financial liabilities as other financial liabilities.

- Financial instruments at FVTPL - include cash and derivatives. The Corporation initially measures these instruments at fair value, with any changes in fair value arising on remeasurement recognized in "Other income" or "Finance costs" in the Consolidated Statement of Income (Loss).
- Loans and receivables – financial assets with fixed or determinable payments such as accounts receivable and promissory notes receivables. The Corporation initially measures these assets at fair value plus transaction costs directly attributable to acquiring them, and then at amortized cost using the effective interest method, net of any impairment.
- Other liabilities - include accounts payable, bonds and notes payables. The Corporation initially measures these liabilities at fair value less transaction costs directly attributable to issuing them, and then at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

Impairment of financial assets

Management assesses at each reporting end whether there is objective evidence that financial assets are impaired. Financial assets are considered to be impaired when there is objective evidence that, as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the financial asset, the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have been affected.

For certain categories of financial assets, such as trade receivables, assets are assessed in addition for impairment on a collective basis. Objective evidence of impairment for a group of receivables could include the Corporation's past experience of collecting payments, an increase in the number of delayed payments past the average credit terms as well as observable changes in national or local economic conditions that correlate with default on receivables.

There are no critical accounting estimates and judgments related to financial instruments.

Asset/Liability	Classification	Measurement
Cash	FVTPL	Fair value
Trade and other receivables	Loans and receivables	Amortized cost
Promissory notes receivable	Loans and receivables	Amortized cost
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	Other liabilities	Amortized cost
Bonds payable	Other liabilities	Amortized cost
Notes payable	Other liabilities	Amortized cost
Derivatives	Held for trading	Fair value

A. FAIR VALUE

The fair values of cash, trade and other receivables, the current portion of the promissory notes receivable, the current portion of the investment in finance lease, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, the current portion of the bonds payable, the current portion of the obligations under finance leases and the current portion of the notes payable approximate their carrying value due to the current nature of these instruments.

The carrying values and fair values of the Corporation's remaining financial assets and financial liabilities are listed in the following table:

	March 31, 2016		March 31, 2015		Note
	Carrying values	Fair values (Level 2)	Carrying values	Fair values (Level 2)
Financial instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis:

Notes payable (non-current)	93,784	107,335	100,513	115,918	(d)

There have been no transfers between levels during the year ended March 31, 2016.

(a) The fair value is based on a discounted cash flow model based on observable future market prices.

(b) The estimated fair value is determined using an option pricing model whose key inputs include the closing price and volatility of the related shares, published Government bond rates and directly observable dividend yields.

(c) The fair values related to the various amounts receivable were determined using the expected future cash flows and discounted using published Government bond rates with similar terms and characteristics, adjusted by a factor that reflect the credit worthiness of the various counterparties.

(d) The fair values related to the Corporation's various financial liabilities were determined using the expected future cash flows and were discounted using published Government bond rates with similar terms and characteristics, adjusted by a factor that reflects the Corporation's credit worthiness.

B. CAPITAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Corporation defines capital that it manages as the aggregate of its equity, which is comprised of retained earnings.

The Corporation is not subject to externally imposed capital requirements. The Corporation is, however, subject to Part III of the Broadcasting Act, which imposes restrictions in relation to borrowings and requires authorization from Parliament and approval from the Minister of Finance.

The Corporation's objectives in managing capital are to safeguard its ability to continue as a going concern, to fund its asset base and to fulfil its mission and objectives for the Government of Canada to the benefit of Canadians.

The Corporation manages its capital by reviewing formally, on a regular basis, the actual results against set budgets, and shares this information with its Audit Committee and Board of Directors. The Corporation's overall strategy with respect to capital management includes the balancing of its operating and capital activities with its funding on an annual basis. The Corporation makes adjustments to its capital management strategy in light of general economic conditions, the risk characteristics of the underlying assets and the Corporation's working capital requirements.

The Corporation's objectives, policies and processes for managing capital are consistent with those in place as at March 31, 2015.

D. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Corporation's activities are exposed to a variety of financial risks: market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Corporation's overall risk management program focuses on the unpredictability of financial and economic markets and seeks to minimize potential effects on the Corporation's financial performance. The risk management is carried out through financial management practices in conjunction with the overall Corporation's governance. The Board of Directors is responsible for overseeing the management of financial risk.

E. MARKET RISK

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate as a result of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: currency risk, interest rate risk and price risk. The Corporation is exposed to all of these risks.

The Corporation's exposure to market risk and its objectives, policies and processes for managing market risk are consistent with those in place as at March 31, 2015.

F. CURRENCY RISK

Currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in foreign exchange rates. The Corporation is exposed to limited foreign exchange risk on revenue and expenses denominated in a foreign currency. The majority of these transactions are denominated in US dollars, Euros and British Pounds. The policy on currency risk requires the Corporation to minimize currency risk to protect the value of foreign cash flows, both committed and anticipated, from the negative impact of exchange rate fluctuations.

The Corporation mitigates this risk by entering into forward exchange contracts. Accordingly, the Corporation has limited sensitivity to changes in foreign exchange rates.

The Corporation's net foreign currency exposure is immaterial as at March 31 2016 (2015 – immaterial).

Based on the net exposure as at March 31, 2016, and assuming all the other variables remain constant, a hypothetical 5% change in the Canadian dollar against the US dollar, the Euro and the GBP would not have a significant impact on the Corporation's net results.

G. INTEREST RATE RISK

Interest risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates. The Corporation's notes receivable, bonds payable and notes payable bear fixed interest rates and, as such, are subject to interest rate risk because the fair value of the financial instruments will be affected by changes in the market rates. However, a change in fair value would not impact the profit or loss of the Corporation.

For its short-term cash balances, the Corporation has a policy of maximizing interest revenue. Given that the prevailing interest rates on treasury bills and other similar investments have not been favourable, the Corporation did not have any such investments as at March 31, 2016 (March 31, 2015 – nil). The Corporation may invest in marketable securities with terms to maturity of less than one year. To be compliant with the Broadcasting Act, these securities must be fully guaranteed by the Government of Canada (e.g. Canada treasury bills). The Corporation may also place its cash in interest bearing accounts with Schedule I Canadian banks. Consequently, the interest rate risk associated with the cash balances is directly tied to the movements of the Bank of Canada's Key Overnight Lending Rate and to the banks' prime rates. To manage interest rate risk, the Corporation deals with a number of banks to obtain competitive rates and to mitigate its exposure to any one particular investment vehicle.

H. CREDIT RISK

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the Corporation. The Corporation has adopted a policy of only extending credit to creditworthy counterparties as a means of mitigating the risk of financial loss from defaults. The Corporation's exposure and the credit ratings of its counterparties are continuously monitored. Credit exposure is controlled by counterparty limits that are reviewed and approved by senior management.

The Corporation is exposed to credit risk through its cash, trade and other receivables, forward exchange contracts, promissory notes receivable and investment in finance lease.

The maximum exposure to credit risk of the Corporation at March 31, 2016 and March 31, 2015 is the carrying value of these assets.

Cash

The Corporation has deposited cash with reputable financial institutions (members of the Canadian Payments Association or local Cooperative Credit Societies that are members of a Central Cooperative Credit Society having membership in the Canadian Payments Association or, subject to the approval of the Minister of Finance, any financial institutions outside Canada), from which management believes the risk of loss to be remote.

Trade and other receivables

The Corporation's trade and other receivables are mainly derived from the sale of advertising airtime. Credit risk concentration with respect to trade receivables is limited and managed through a program of credit evaluation and by restricting the amount of customer credit where deemed necessary. The Corporation does not believe that it is exposed to an unusual or significant level of credit risk. See Note 5 for more information.

The Corporation establishes an allowance for doubtful accounts that reflects the estimated impairment of accounts receivable. The Corporation has a specific policy on credit and collections and guidelines that provide for how the allowance should be determined. The Corporation establishes a specific allowance for receivables where there is objective evidence that the receivable is not recoverable. This is determined by considering the Corporation's knowledge of the financial condition of its customers, the aging of accounts receivable, the current economic climate, customer and industry concentrations, and historical experience.

The Corporation's allowance for doubtful accounts amounted to $2.1 million at March 31, 2016 (March 31, 2015 – $2.7 million). See Note 5 for more information.

Promissory notes receivable and Investment in finance lease

The Corporation's promissory notes receivable and investment in finance lease are the result of transactions that occurred in 2003, when the Corporation agreed to sell and rent several parcels of land to a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan. At the time of the transaction, the Corporation ensured that the counterparty met the criteria set out by the Corporation with regards to credit worthiness and risk, especially given the long-term nature of the receivables. The Corporation monitors the collection of the promissory notes receivable and rental payments associated with the investment in finance lease, which are collected on a monthly basis through the CBC Monetization Trust.

Forward exchange contracts

The policy on currency risk requires that all significant forward contracts, options and other instruments used to economically hedge a foreign currency exposure will be negotiated with providers holding credit ratings equivalent to or better than that of the major Canadian banks. To this end, the Corporation has five counterparties meeting this criterion with which it places all its currency hedging business.

	Notional	Fair values	Notional	Fair values
Forward exchange contracts-$US ¹	13,143	(159)	12,525	161

25. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (CONTINUED)

I. LIQUIDITY RISK

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Corporation will encounter difficulties in meeting its financial obligations associated with financial liabilities.

The Corporation's approach to managing liquidity risk is to ensure, as far as possible, that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when due, under both normal and stressed conditions without incurring losses. The Corporation also manages liquidity risk by continuously monitoring actual and budgeted cash flows. Also, the Board of Directors reviews and approves the Corporation's operating and capital budgets, as well as large transactions.

The Corporation does not have the authority to obtain a line of credit or non-current debt without the prior approval of the Minister of Finance.

The following table presents a maturity analysis of the Corporation's financial liabilities based on the expected cash flows from the date of the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position to the contractual maturity date. The amounts are the contractual undiscounted cash flows.

The Corporation has transactions with other government-related entities including but not limited to sales and purchases of goods and rendering and receiving of services.

The Corporation has elected to take an exemption under IAS 24 Related Party Disclosures which allows government related entities to limit the extent of disclosures about related party transactions with government and other government related entities.
