Strategic Plan 2019-2022

Ottawa, Ontario – May 2, 2019

The Honourable Geoff Regan, Speaker of the House of Commons, announced the launch of the House Administration's Strategic Plan 2019–2022 today. The plan is available to the public on ourcommons.ca.

The House of Commons Administration exists to support Members and parliamentary democracy. The new plan sets out the strategic priorities and direction for the House Administration over the next three years. It also renews its mission, vision and values to bring better focus to the Administration's mandate to ensure that Members can easily and effectively fulfill their parliamentary functions in the Chamber, in committees, in their Hill and constituency offices, and abroad.

The Board of Internal Economy—the governing body of the House of Commons—will ensure that progress against the plan is communicated through the annual Report to Canadians.

Canadians are invited to learn more about the House of Commons, including about the Administration and the Members it supports, by visiting ourcommons.ca and following the House on social media.
