RE : Notice to the public about the hearing in Commissioner of Competition v. Rogers Communications Inc. et al. (A-286-22)

DIRECTION

The Chair of the appeal panel directs that the following information be posted to the website of the Federal Court of Appeal and also be supplied to counsel in this appeal.

The hearing of this appeal is scheduled to take place for up to one day on January 24, 2023. It will start at 9:30 a.m. EST.

The public gallery in the Federal Court of Appeal's courtroom is very small. Counsel for the parties and their representatives who must be present in person to instruct counsel have booked all the available space.

However, those interested in observing the hearing live may do so online.

Interested persons should email the Registry of the Federal Court of Appeal at Information@fca-caf.gc.ca. In that email, they should refer to the description of the case, above, express their interest in watching the hearing live, and supply an email address. The Registry will send to that email address instructions on how to join online.

Due to space limitations, there will be no physical facilities available on premises of the Federal Court of Appeal to watch the online broadcast of the hearing. Therefore, those interested in watching the hearing are invited to do so online.

The Court's Guidelines on Public and Media Access apply to this hearing. It is prohibited to take photos or screen-captures during the hearing or to broadcast or distribute the hearing or later, court-supplied recordings of the hearing, in whole or in part.
